We're going to need a draft if things keep up as they are. One day they're pulling for a "pull out" of Iraq, now I'm hearing we're in it for the LONG haul because of all the civil unrest, etc. Yep - another Vietnam. At least in that respect - Saddam Hussein was right......

And just WHERE are those "Weapons of Mass Destruction" we went in there to find - the initial cause of the war? Seems to me, someone screwed up. Either our "intelligence" wasn't so freaking intelligent OR the man named Bush - LIED. IF they'd have left Schwarzkoptf (sp?) finish the job, we probably wouldn't be there now. That is a prime example of our leaders handcuffing the military. If you're going to war - SHOW NO MERCY. Patton is probably rolling over in his grave at the mockery. The enemy plays by NO rules, so why the hell do WE?

Yeah man, with Iraq, Afghanistan, Iran, N. Korea all bubbling to a boil, the shit could really hit the fan. A draft would have to bring in LOTS of people to deal with that. Christ, they'll have to re-enlist the veterans who've been out for a while - even those crippled by bombs, etc - to maintain equipment to their ability. They won't have time to train new people to do much more than shoot a gun.

Just my 2 cents.

Since Congress saw the very same intelligence - and then voted for the war - that means the intelligence wasn't so freaking intelligent!

If "Bush LIED" then all of Congress LIED also. Everyone seems to conveniently forget this.

hardly as medial devices are increasing ly conected to the bot and hackers can in fact affect lethal harm to their victums indeed if someone were hack enough into my home this winter and altered the programing of medical device oe might have killed my home man

Whats to forget? THE WHOLE FREAKING THING WAS A LIE. Doesn't matter WHO "started" it or "supported" it. FACT IS - we've got 2000 plus dead soldiers now due to this LIE. A LIE IS A LIE IS A LIE - no matter how started or allowed to go on. BUSH, CONGRESS, whoever - ALL are responsible for this Travisty. THEY ALL have to accept blame - after all, THEY are in command. AND if our so called intelligence isn't so intelligent, then maybe we should look a tad harder before going into a war. Hussien made an ass of all of them. Maybe he did wrong and he's on trial now for it, but he WAS right!

saddam was never right

as it happens the documents clearly indiacate that his general were lead to believe theyhad WMD's and we tapped there phone at varioustime

Saddam thought if he could covince us he had WMD's we would not attack

he was wrong

but saddam was a lyiar for being wrong nor was intel nor the pres or the congress

OTOH when I voted for Bush in 2000 I was voting for war with Iraq before 9/11 I felt saddam had to be taken out the congress and President Clinton agreed with me ut did nothing

No - Saddam was "right" - I'm referring to his description of another Viet nam for US. He was right on the money. It has been a very close call - maybe not in all ways, but with the way it is dragging on and our people getting killed. IT IS POINTLESS. Those ass holes down there have been fighting for hundreds or thousands of years, do you REALLY think WE are going to bring peace there in a couple? HELL NO. THIS WAR didn't have to be. AGAIN - when DADDY BUSH was in power - had he allowed Norman to finish the job, Saddam wouldn't have had this second go round. So - BUSHES fucked up..... 9/11 wasn't done by Saddam, it was done by a low life - yellow bellied - son of a bitch with vacuum lips from sucking too many dongs - who hides in caves - gutless to come out in the open. I WILL give Bush credit for NOT hiding. Maybe Saddam was doing wrong in some views = far be it from me to say he was doing right, but he seemed to be keeping control - right or wrong. You didn't have all this bull shit there is now - with all of them fighting each other. The Kurds, Shiites, and whoever else it is. We have to be crazy to think WE are going to solve that mess. it hasn't worked in a year - so tell me - just HOW many more years should we stay there and how many more have to die for it? IF you like that "war" so much, why don't YOU volunteer?

Oh and the WMD - Since we went in under false pretenses of him having them, just what the hell do you think we would have done with definate finds? THE SAME DAMNED THING! So HIS threats 0r ploys didn't do a damned thing. THEY AGREED WITH YOU? GIVE ME A BREAK..... They don't agree with US. YOU AND I are peons in their eyes, they don't give a shit what WE think. All we're good for is paying for their damned perks..... and dying for their causes.

WE NEEDED A WAR? Man that is one sick thought..... what the fuck are you smoking?

Saddam may have been doing wrong by his actions (going according to the bs fed to us) - but even with keeping them suppressed - however it was done - he did have control. We took him out of power and all hell has broken loose and we have ZERO ideas for ending it or getting the hell out. Now WE are stuck with the mess WE created by going in and sticking our nose where it didn't belong. I'm willing to bet, though his ass is in the sling now - he is laughing his ass off knowing what we have to deal with. Unless we can clean this mess up - HE WON. IF we were "just" fighting the Al-Quaida, that is one thing. But - we're fighting them, and the other 3 (the Sunni's I forgot before); they're fighting amongst each other for power and fighting us as well for now being there. WE ARE IN A HORNETS NEST AND IT IS ACTIVATED. Those desert rats don't play by rules. Unfortunately, we do..... If you're going to fight a war - FIGHT IT with all you have. You have no time to be picking and choosing who you'll shoot or not. IT IS KILL OR BE KILLED. OUR people having to play by the rules are getting killed.

SO, again I ask you - we "needed" this war? Have YOU ever been in the military? Do you serve in any other capacity in the name of "Defense"? I have been and I DO. A few of my friends and relatives have been to Iraq - a couple still are there, one is still in Afghanistan - has been for 2 years - minus a 30 day break. SO don't go spouting off about how we needed this war. THAT IS AS SICK AS YOU CAN GET. Say that to the parents, husbands, wives, Children old enough to understand who they've lost - of those who have lost family to this mockery.

Again, I SUPPORT the troops, I DO NOT support the fucking lie that put them there. YES, they are trained to fight and accept they may be killed. But again, this was for NOTHING.

I see you picked on quite a bit in here, NOW I KNOW WHY..... Cease and Desist you say? You ought to take your own advice and keep your mouth shut of things you are clueless about. You made your bed, now you have to lay in it. They've got your number. The best way for you to get them to stop - is to stop yourself. Apparently you've not learned that.

IF you're young enough, why not prove you're a real man - volunteer to go fight that war that you feel we "needed". DO THAT and maybe you'll have some credibility. IF you can't do that - then don't spout off with us as to what we "needed". WE don't need the likes of you deciding whether a war is needed. Hell, you can't even win a battle on here without crying foul and you think you can conceive a reason for a useless war? Hahahahaha.....

Tell me - if Bush was so RIGHT - how come his popularity dipped to below 50%? It may have risen since then, I'm not up on the last reading, but THE WAR CAUSED IT TO DIP. People are tired of IT and being lied to about it. And to answer a point the other guy made - YES - ALL of them ought to be held accountable. BUT in this case, since the poll is only about Bush, I'm using him as the example. Bush isn't the only one at fault here, but HE had a choice to make and he made it - A BAD ONE - for Iraq. I WILL agree with Afghanistan since those ass holes were into the 9/11 deal. We should have finished THAT first if we "needed" to get into another. WE're spread pretty thin and if N. Korea and Iran decide to start acting up, maybe even the likes of you will be drafted to help fight those wars..... I'm glad I don't live close to you - I'd hate to smell the shit which will be running down your legs if you are drafted. Tell the draft board to cease and desist..... HAHAHAHA.....

Are you going to tell the N. Koreans or Iranians aiming guns at you to cease and desist? ROFLMAO.....

Go away little boy..... We're not playing with little plastic soldiers who can come back for another war time after time after time. REAL LIVES are being lost for NOTHING..... Oh yeah, I'd LOVE to see you tell those survivors we "needed" this war..... Man, you'd be tarred and feathered in a heart beat.

Oh, well, at least you're learning _something_! Look at Mark, he can't even figure out that he won't get slapped if he just refrains from using "that" word. Now you just have to learn not to talk back to your betters, and all will be well.

another of the kooks

you think that you and the Demon can type the word bitchslap means people are afraid of you inddeed trans YOU and demon haven't learned you can't slap me at all you insist usenet isn't real, slaping would be, and if you want to try slaping you will have to stay standing long enough to do it

The war, which continues in Iraq, is the culminating episode in the long 20th-century history of the rebellion of the colonized against the empires of the west: it is the story of Vietnam, Algeria and the Congo, of Nicaragua and the Lebanon, of Chilean guerrillas, Australian Aborigines and Celtic nationalists, of all the counter-cultural forces of the century past.

And to understand such an epochal struggle across the continents, we don't need to get exercised about weapons or mobile labs as possible causes. The reason for what happened lies in the nature of America's hegemony in 2004, the solitude of its self-understanding, the tragedy of its geographically enforced isolation, and the sum total of over a century of European, and especially British, meddling in the Middle East. The always invented cause is a throw-away prop to argument: it can come and go. But the reason was there long before the deeds of war. We did not need the Iraq war to happen to establish our knowledge of the nature of US power, and British collusion in that omnipotence.

This is why Iraq troubles the way we live now, and have lived for a long time. It is a call to self-examination and the national conscience, neither of which are natural ports of call for the breezy certitudes and quick collapses of British journalism.

Come on now Bob.

Todd's biggest dream, all his life was to be able to be a disk jockey and play shitty music when he grew up, now you're trying to take that away from him. Shame on you.

the point of this drivel Iknow the hisory of the region well Saddam was made dangerous by US and the saudis and the Kuwatis togther we had a duty to deal with him when he got out of hand and attacked the Kuwaitis.

since scation and over filght was not finshing the job and he was refusing to honnor his agreements with us we had to go and shoot hi to show that such defiance is intolerable.

we did that, so we won the war

we may win the peace or not. that battle is worth fighting, bt intime we may and shia and sunni are crave each other up I have a duty to try

The names are too similar. It's easy for the public to confuse the names, and so your choice will be taken before a judge. You do have enough money to afford $125 per hour for a copyright and trade mark lawyer, don't you? It shouldn't require more than 100 or 200 hours of billed time for the law firm to handle your case up through the first hearing. That's somewhere between $12,000 and $25,000 up-front money to defend yourself.

You probably have that as pocket change in your basement floor safe (next to the Tonka Toys).

It's as real as I mean it, and as real as you choose to take it. Since you clearly consider your rec.radio.* froups to be "real", and keep trying to divert me out of at least one of them in many of your replies to me, Pee-Wee, my slaps must needs be real enough for you -- otherwise, there'd be no need to net.KKKop, since you could just ignore them.

You can't ignore them. You can't ignore me. My slaps hurt, and I own you.

> nothing that happens can unreal <BITCHSLAP>

<reading the missing verb> Obviously not. Otherwise, you could've ignored me ages ago. Reality is in the mind, and is always in the mind.

My slaps hurt, don't they? You know how to make it stop.

> indeed with the mention eris I would thhink you would know that THOUGHT is

Of course I know thought is real. Virtual slaps are thoughts, too. They're as real as anything else...You certainly can't ignore them, or you would.

> you a fake and flake and of course a <BITCHSLAP>

You are such a dilemma. Maybe you need to go back to boot camp, or something.

That's still a slap. How much stays in (of what you write after the slap) is entirely up to my whim. They're thoughts of slaps, and thoughts are real, as you yourself pointed out. Now, I, Snarky, do hereby claim

SPNAK!

Obviously Mork Morgan has not grasped the irony and blatant intent of Slow Code spamming this group in an attempt to show Mork an example of what he, Mork, has been doing for months. Mork, ever the dolt, looked at the writing on the wall AND COULDN'T READ IT!
Like the congenital idiot he is, Mork decided that he MUST defend his "honor" and reply to each and every post, including adding cross-posted groups.
Mork...hint...Slow Code tried to make a point. One which sailed well over your head. He was spoofing you, dimwit! (Sigh.)

I guess it 'shows to go you' that you can lead Mork to water, but you cannot convince him to drink from the waters of knowledge.
Your turn, Mork. Enlighten us with yet more words (spelled correctly) of your unending examples of wit and wisdom.

Smile. Roger loves you.

What a pity. Here comes Mark once again, injecting an inane comment with hopes of being accepted by his intellectual superiors.

What the heck is "impotentance", Mark?

So long as you continue to spam these groups, and so long as you do so with your inability to spell correctly, you, Mark, will be looked downward upon as nothing more than the minor mental idiot you have shown yourself to be.

Wiseman has you pegged.

I'm not sure how reliable the above source is, but if true, yet another bush scandal brewing...

If they -don't- have anything to hide, why do they arrest people at Andrews for taking pictures??? So much for "Freedom of the Press"---another one of our rights gone down the tubes.

In any event, ya gotta wonder what they are trying to hide.

This newsgroup has devolved to what it is today largely because of you, Mark. Even with white trash Wiseman throwing in his filth, the group was never "that" bad. Then you, another piece of white trash arrived and the rest is, as they say, history.

no that just is't true it is has been in bad shape aslong as Wismena nd Robeson have been posting I simply highlighted it

OTOH you lack even the cowarage to post your name meaning it is has a high chance of being Wismen
Many people choose to remain anonymous for good reason. You are obviously not intelligent enough to understand the concept.
Perhaps the recent "anon" phone calls to your father-in-law's answering machine didn't ring your thick bell. Had you remained anonymous that would not have happened. Have any of your fellow Kooks sent you magazine subscriptions yet? Sent letters to your neighbors? Or worse?
Even Wiseman "wised" up after being sent a few pizzas. You obviously have not.
No, Mork. Posting with your name and callsign is NOT the signature of a courageous person, but instead the folly of a stupid one.

Again your lack of knowledge makes you look the fool. Quit watching your copy of Convoy.

Zounds! Biff! ZAP!!!
That sounds like Mark! He still has his old Cobra 23 channel CB which he runs off a long coax running from his basement to the mag mount antenna on the trunk of his no longer operable, junk car in his father-in-law's back yard. He even has a two amp power supply so he doesn't have to run off the eight "D" cell battery pack he keeps for those northern Michigan hurricanes.
Purty soon though, his daddy-in-law is gonna make him take the coax out of the basement window because the earwigs are crawling in and infesting the house. He told Mark he wants a piece of glass in the winder and wants Mark to remove the duct taped plastic come snow season.
Mark wants to keep the old car and his antenna setup because he says the old klunker has a better ground plane than the discarded refrigerator he used to use. He likes the old fridge, though. It gives him a good ground plane for his mag mount two meter antenna and besides, he done converted the old refrigerator into a storage shed for his clothes that don't fit. He says he likes the old Kelvinator because of the directionality it gives his signals...almost like a beam would. All he has to do is tell his wife to go out back and give the old Kelvinator a shove one way or the other so he can work EME.

So there you are. When Mark ain't spamming Usenet he is on 11 meters giving a "ten-four" and "roger that" and a "I heard that" to his like-minded mental misfits. I heard that, I did. Ten-Four????

No need to mention that you are driving Mark Morgan up the proverbial wall. He is already beside himself in trying to figure out who to spam next. Your "wit", a very liberal use of the term, has seemingly left Poor Mark picking the dust of your witty retorts from his tooth while he attempts to keep abreast of posts to which he cannot coherently respond.
Cannot you find it in your heart to pity him? Too err is Morgan. To forgive is an option.

depends on what bores you Dr Death but if the meow pussies keep hanging around and esp if you keep hanging with em who knows it may be years of "Kooks on parade"

It sure will, Mark. You brought em' here.

* PLEASE NOTE: The report "could" contain "Pirate/SLIM" operations or more likely a "BUSTED CALLSIGN". As always, you never know - "Work First Worry Later" (WFWL).

3A, MONACO. Patrice, F5RBB, will be active as 3A/F5RBB from September 2-10th. Activity will be on 40/20/15/10 meters SSB. QSL via his home callsign.

3XM, GUINEA (Possible IOTA Ops). Serge/UA6JR and Alex/RW3AZ will be active again from Boke as 3XM6JR and 3XD2Z, respectively, starting August 29th "for the next few years". Activity will be on 160-6 meters CW, SSB and RTTY, plus PSK and SSTV (3XM6JR). Serge also plans to activate IOTA groups

AF-096 and AF-051 during his stay. He will also use the special callsign 3XY3AZ during contest activities. QSL via UA6JR, direct or by the bureau.

5B, CYPRUS (Possibly ZC4!). Colin, G3VCQ, will be active as 5B/G3VCQ from August 28th to September 6th. Activity will be on all HF bands. Colin may also be active from the U.K. Sov. Base Areas on Cyprus (ZC4) from time to time if a callsign is allocated. QSL via G3VCQ.

5V, TOGO. Robert, 5V7BR, can sometimes be found on 14114 kHz after 0600z. As of June 1st (2006), the QSL Manager for 5V7BR is Gerard, F2VX. QSL cards are "OK" via the bureau or direct.

6W, SENRGAL. Albert, NH7A, will be active as 6W1RY during the CQWW DX SSB Contest (October 28-29th) as a Single-Op/All-Band/High-Power entry. QSL via F5VHJ.

7Q, MALAWI. Ely, IN3VZE, informs OPDX that he will be active as 7Q7CE from the southwest of Lake Malawi starting September 18th and ending October 5th. Activity will be on 80-10 meters. QSL via IN3VZE, direct or via bureau. His address is: Ely Camin, Corso 3 Novembre 136/2, 38100 - Trento - Italy.

9A, CROATIA. Gery, HB9TQF, will be active as 9A8TQF from August 28th to September 6th. Activity will be from Grid Square JN83, probably the exact locator will be JN83BB. Bands of activity were not provided, but he will be CW, SSB and FSK.

CT3, MADEIRA ISLANDS. Kresimir, 9A7K, will stay at Funchal between August 28th and September 4th. During his free time he will visit radio club stations CS3MAD and Jose CT3HG, and will be active as CT3/9A7K from IOTA AF-014. This is the first Croatian amateur radio station active from DXCC entity Madeira and from IOTA AF-014. QSL CT3/9A7K via his home callsign. Visit Kresimir's Web page at: http://www.9a7k.com

NOT THE QSL MANAGER. John, KX7YT, informed OPDX that the June 17, 2002, OPDX Bulletin lists him (KX7YT) as the QSL Manager for S21DM. This is incorrect and he not the QSL Manager. He has unfortunately been getting many of his QSL cards. John was active as S21YV (as well as KX7YT) and has met S21DM while on business in Bangladesh. He tells John that he only QSLs direct. He has NO MANAGER. John is however, the QSL Manager for S21B.

GW3KHZ/P QSL STATUS. Steve, G4EDG, informs OPDX that all direct QSLs sent to G4EDG for the GW3KHZ/P St. Tudwal's Island (EU-106) operation on May 6th have been replied to and sent out August 22nd.

NEW QSL ROUTE. A new QSL Manager has been announced for Morokulien, SJ9WL/LG5LG. For more than 10 years, John, SM5DJZ, has taken care of all the QSLing chores for SJ9WL/LG5LG after the late SM0HUK, who became a Silent Key in 1995. The new QSL Manager for both SJ9WL and LG5LG is now Svenn-Erik Spigseth, LA4EKA, and his address is "OK" on QRZ.com. Cards are welcome via direct and also via the Norwegian QSL Bureau (NRRL). QSL cards that arrive in Sweden will automatically be transfered to LA4EKA. Svenn-Erik will also handle the Morokulien Award. For more info, please visit the WEB page at:
http://www.east.no/priv/la7tia/arim/engarim.htm

Nilay, TA3YJ, informs OPDX that she sent out QSL cards for TA3J, TA3J/0 (AS-115), TA3J/3, TA3J/4 LH, TA3J/60, TC2K4J, TA3YJ, TA3YJ/4 LH, YM75TA, YM3LZ (WPX2000SSB) and YM3LZ (WAE2000SSB) to the QSL Bureaus of Croatia, Denmark, Germany (R), Greece (R), Italy (R), Netherlands, Russia, Spain (R), Ukraine and United Kingdom (R) direct August 22nd. (R: Registered Mail). She has also sent out all direct QSL cards for TA3J/0 (AS-115) on August 22nd. PLEASE NOTE: TA3J didn't operate from Croatia. 9A/TA3J is a pirate station.

S7, SEYCHELLES. Claudio, IZ0KRC, will be on holiday and will be active as S79RC from September 3-16th. He plans to activate a few islands in the Seychelles group (AF-024). Islands mentioned are: Mahe, Praslin and La Digue. QSL via IK0PRP, direct or by the bureau.

SPECIAL EVENT (IOTA Op). As part of the 2006 Orkney International Science Festiva, special event station GB1H will be active from September 7-10th from the Isle of Stronsay (IOSA OR-08, SCOTIA OI-18), Orkney Islands (EU-009). Members of the Orkney Amateur Radio Club will be assisting with a special event station powered entirely by hydrogen gas. This amateur radio station is believed to be one of the first ever to use this form of power, certainly within the United Kingdom. To celebrate the fact that this is the first known station to use hydrogen power (from the UK), OFCOM has kindly agreed for them to use the abbreviated callsign GB1H ("H"; being the chemical symbol for hydrogen). QSL direct to MM3LQK: William Caithness, Bayview, Stronsay, Orkney Islands, United Kingdom. The logs will be uploaded to LoTW and also e-QSL.

SPECIAL EVENTS (Japan). Look for the following special event stations to be active during the next two months on all bands and modes. QSL via the JARL Bureau.
8J1H - Activity will be between September 1st and October 10th to celebrate the 90th anniversary of Hachioji City.

8J3R - Activity will be between September 1st and October 31st to celebrate the 5th Anniversary of Ritto City.

8J4HAM - Activity will be between September 1st and October 1st to celebrate the Hamfesta Kasaoka.

8N1I - Activity will be between September 1st and October 9th to celebrate the 18th All Japan Shogai (or Lifetime) Gakushu (or Learning) Festival in Ibaraki

TM4, FRANCE. Operators Jean-Paul/F6FYA, Jean/F6EKS, Marc/F6EMT, Florent/F5CWU, Beatrice/F5MYT, Genevieve/F5SQM, Rafik/F5CQ, Thierry/F5MOO and Sylvain/F4EGD will use the special contest callsign TM4Q during the CQWW DX CW Contest (November 25-26th) as a Multi-Single entry. QSL via F6FYA.

V2, ANTIGUA. Bud, AA3B, will be active as V26K between November 22-27th. His activity includes the CQ WW CW Contest (November 25-26th) as a Single-Op/All-Band/Low-Power entry. This will be an all CW operation on the contest HF bands only. Please QSL via AA3B.

VK, AUSTRALIA (IOTA/Lighthouse Ops). Just a reminder that Wade/AA8LL and Liz/K8LIZ are planning to be operating "holiday style" later this week rom the following islands and lighthouses:
September 1-4th - Look for VK7AAH/5 and VK7AED/5 from the Cape du Couedic Lighthouse (AUS-030) on Kangaroo Island (OC-139).
September 5-6th - Look for VK7AAH and VK7AED from the Cape Bruny Lighthouse (AUS-254) on South Bruny Island (OC-233).
September 7-10th - Look for VK7AAH and VK7AED from Tasmania (OC-006, main island).
Casual operations will be with 100 watts and wire antennas on SSB and CW (possibly RTTY) on 40-15 meters; IOTA frequencies. QSL direct or by the Bureau: VK7AAH via AA8LL and VK7AED via K8LIZ. The address is correct on QRZ.com and cards for both may go in the same envelope.

WP3, PUERTO RICO. Alfredo (Al), WP3C, will be active during the CQWW DX RTTY Contest (September 23-24th) as a Single-Op/All-Band/Low-Power entry. QSL via W3HNK. Visit the Web page at: http://www.wp3c.qth.com

Ok, what if you were stranded on a desert island, and had to use code to save someone's life?
Could you use the coconuts to build a radio in order to send said code?
And if you could build the radio out of coconuts, why not just build one with a mic and speak the miracle of life into being?

Yo Low! U related to Hu Flung Dung? You should change the spelling to Wun Hung Low...
Anyway,
I bet they're hiding military secrets in there. Probably new stealth planes and such. It would be so much better if we all just opened up to each other and stopped hiding stuff from other countries!
It's only fair, you know.
How the heck is our enemy supposed to defend themselves if they don't know what is coming next??
Stupid US cheaters.
Sheesh.
rb

PS: Then again, I heard on the SETI site that they may have moved the Roswell debris and bodies to Andrews, and anyone trying to take pics would get all those funny lines and crap in the film, caused by all the space radiation and stuff....
So in order to maintain control on the civilian film stock and keep from wasting it, the government has a secret plan to stop all photography within the next 20 years anyway.

Last I checked, too many drafts causes an uncontrollable decline in upkeeping, thus; forcing you to pull out early.

Most were bombed in their beds, several were tracked down and RPG'd as they hid under a table, a few were captured and one is actually on trial I hear.

Yeah see, but you could've said it simpler as thus: oppression that's out of sight and out of mind should be left that way. Who wants to lift a finger in the name of righteousness, for Christ's sake? [haha... I made a funny...]

Going into another country, [after giving them ample time and warning to clean up the evidence], then booting out the murderous dictator and his posse...? How selfishly unfair to the soft, fat and lazy tree-hugging US citizens that believe in selfish unfairness! Doesn't our government realize the number of chickens being murdered every day! And for what? A casserole?!?!

You forgot that lloyd Davies is the pizza man / expert TimeDork of the

Todd N9OGL
OMEGA ONE RADIO

Wrong, Toad. YOU are the Head Dork. Always were, always will be.
And besides, Lloyd Davies doesn't post here. Maybe you should confer with Wiseman, but he doesn't get released until later this morning. Take it up with him.

It's got nothing to do with your perversion, Morkie.

Why would I?

I know several "bi" people. Most of them are OK enough...but then they don't act like you do, either

Who's "kok"...?!?!

You're not happy, Mork. It's obvious. You're a loser on so many levels as your campaign to smear anyone and everyone here attests.

> >and why would a Nurse Encourage suicide?

> well?

I wasn't suggesting it as a Nurse, Morkie.

I was asking your to do it as a commitment to a cleaner enviroment.

Obviously the enviroment is not one of your concerns.

Steve, K4YZ
...

OK, Ok, but I have to ask. What the heck is "impy"? I remember years ago when we kids would watch TV on the old black and white tube and watch as Walter Brennan played the part of a guy who was "impy". Or was that 'gimpy'?
Then along came Gunsmoke with Matt Arness and his "impy" sidekick, Chester.
Oh, wait. Maybe Chester (Dennis Weaver) was not "impy" but gimpy. Perhaps Mork could elucidate when his overworked door-greeter schedule permits?
And if Mark doesn't mind, perhaps he can also explain that a "kok" is? Is that an animal native to his northern Michigan area? A cooking utensil?
Funny, but try as I did I couldn't find a definition for "kok" anywhere on line, and my Websters has no such entry, either.
This is a mystery that only Mork Morgan can explain, if you can decipher what he says.

Why did Wiseman go down on your daughter one time? Or are you posting one of your many Freudian slips that you want Markie to go down on you?

You're probably right on the spelling....Although I did watch a

Oh, I suppose he could ask directions. Somebody would be willing to show him where "down" is. Heck, maybe he could enlist the aid of Wiseman who, I am sure, would be more than willing to give Mark a shove in the proper the lie is your claim you are not a gay bashing bigot

This can be SO simple. I should have thought of this weeks ago.
I'll simply x-post Marks comments to two or three of the extreme Muslim newsgroups and be sure that they realize he is a bisexual Jew. Wiseman already posted Marks address....
It should take four or five months, six tops, before a Camel Jockey or two pays Mark a visit. There are lots of em in Dearborn, which is less than a three hour drive from Chassell.

Why didn't I think of this sooner?

I'm going to reply to TWO of your posts at once..... "Woody"

"IF" the inspectors were to be believed, there was no WMD. But then again, as proven - the intelligence may have been flawed. SO, who DO you believe? WAR is a hell of a price to pay for a lie - regardless how started or perpetuated.

Oppression? Can we "actually" believe that? Those groups couldn't smuggle arms in - to try to break free of Saddam? His intelligence couldn't be any better than ours and we know ours has cracks. Seems nothing else can be believed. Going in - we've not done any better - there is more chaos there now than ever. More killing and NOT by "our" hands. There isn't a day you don't hear more have died - soldiers included - and usually by road side bombs, cars or buses filled with them, people wearing them. We're doing NOTHING to slow it down or stop it. Unlike some lame brain said, we did NOT "need" this war. We should have let them live as they want to live. Who are WE to shove democracy down their throats? They've lived that way for centuries, why change now? As long as "WE" aren't being attacked, why the hell should we give a damned. We wouldn't want THEM coming here to do that. Oppression? Some could even suggest with our own civil liberties being taken away - WE are being led in that direction to some degree.

Women and children? NO - by rights they should NOT be targets (popular "moral" thinking) - BUT - times are changing. There have been "reports" (believed or not) of women strapping bombs on themselves. And we know - that kids here in the U.S. are getting braver and braver. Doing things unheard of when we were kids. It has been said that the women and children in Viet Nam were just as dangerous - if it is to be believed. Women here are getting braver with crimes too. So..... they're not so "stay at home - meek and mild - dainty - mom types" - anymore.

I do NOT agree with war (unless attacked). BUT if you get into it by force or otherwise, you may as well "FIGHT IT" like you mean it. There is no backing down - then. We went in there bombs and missles firing. Hardly a life lost (on our side). It was when we got into the towns when we started losing them most - just as Saddam predicted. The enemy on the battlefield was easy to spot. Once in towns - forget it - you're surrounded and have no clue WHO they are or WHERE they are. If we hadn't backed off - this thing may have been over - with less lives lost on our sides at least.

Back to Lame Brain..... if war is "needed" then lets twist it around to make it more appreciated. IF we are attacked - then we NEED to go kick their ass and do it good - no holds barred. Make them realize they screwed up by doing so.

I find it interesting that MOST of our enemies have been "savages" in actions..... Not giving a damned if it was man, woman or child. I find it more interesting that we fight with kid gloves when it comes to finishing the job RIGHT. The Government always starts the shit, but then takes pity and pulls back the reins. THAT is when most of our people start getting killed. Yep "Black Sabbath's" "WAR PIGS" fits ideally here.

Huh? The topic was why the government was hiding the number of dead bodies coming into Andrews. Why are you off on a tangent and being a smart ass about stealth planes, SETI and Roswell? You are -evading- the topic. Please stay focused and try and explain why the government is hiding the number of dead bodies coming in. (and whatever does hiding the number of dead bodies coming to Andrews have to do with letting the enemy "know what's coming next")???

Anyway, thanks for demonstrating that you are not the brightest bulb in the box.

Sheesh.

Maybe nobody notices because they didn't turn into another Viet Nam type of fiasco.

...and the "Belkans"??? You wouldn't mean the Balkans, would you??? But thanks anyway for illustrating yet again that you're not the brightest

There people go again... a whole novel that can be summed up in a simple pathetic sentence:

"I just don't want to get involved"

An old and tired cliche for the selfish and foolish that can't do CW.

I bet if you could do 20wpm CW, you would feel differently.
Please help out President Bush, Iraq and the USA by studying code.

Just say Doh! CW saves lives!

So are you interested in my Icom or not? I'm looking for a spectra......
50w, VHF, with speaker and power cord.

I'm not posting looking for replies, I thought we were just trying to jam up the swap group....?

Radio content:
Soldiers in Iraq once thought it a good idea to use FRS radios..... they later traded [aka swapped] for better stuff.

I really feel sorry for you people. If you would get back to enjoying ham radio, and quit harrassing each other, you'll find you have much better opinions of yourselves.

I'm not a sock. I'm the real thing, but you're all so paranoid and screwed up, you attack each other like a pack of starving dogs, And poor old Markie gets the brunt of it. LOL

You're spending WAY too much time with Mark Morgan. That's not good. It's starting to cloud with your judgement. Next he'll have you believing you can do EME on CB.

Errr.... not sure how to answer that.... ? You're one really lost soul, bro.
You might wanna arm yourself before jumping into an argument.
Study the Qu'ran some, then come back. [You're maybe familiar with a paraphrase of "Know thine enemy."??]

Nothing you've stated has squat to do with Islam as a religious practice.
Islam, as well as most Christian denominations are indeed a religion of peace.
While the Qur'an is single viewpoint of a rather confused, self-proclaimed prophet, he speaks mostly of peace and love, just as the Bible does. Unfortunately, there are many more contradictions in his rendition.
At any rate, there are several branches/types of Muslims and there is no mention of Honor Killings in the Qu'ran. Moreover; said killings are specifically prohibited by the Sharia.
Those that practice it, do it against their own religious law, based on their own interpretations of it.
Sound familiar at all??
If you're bored and want to see how wrong you are, just do some research.
While you're at it, you might wanna check into how many Christian terrorists there are right here in the good ol' USA, running loose right beside every other type of terrorist. Stop listening to the media for once and maybe get your own information.

Go stand near an abortion clinic, gay bar, or similar place. Won't be long before some mad Christian bomber shows up, killing in the name of God, in order to stop the killing.
Just like our buddy Osama.... It's not about religion, it's about insanity.

One day, if you decide to pay any attention to what's going on around you instead of making random arm-chair assumptions based on rumor, you may figure out it isn't the Muslim, Hindu or Christian.
It's the crazies bro, not their chosen religion....

Your Christian friend,
rb

Second problem is that despite Wiseman's attempts to disrupt a few newsgroups, Mark Morgan has done far, far more to cause disruption than Wiseman has.
Wiseman, or his third person persona, makes his usual spate of filthy comments and leaves for a while. Not so Mark Morgan. Mark, despite his claims of being employed, seems to have hour upon free hour to flood the groups with his drivel and he cares little of what a thread is about or who initiated it. Mark feels he must have SOMETHING to say to just about each and every post made, and 98% of his responses have absolutely no value...if one can even decipher them.
Mark must be far more lonely than Wiseman.

Pot, Kettle, Mark. It was either May or June (I'd have to go back and look) when YOU you had 350 posts alone over your main sock. There were another 150 (and counting) over your other puppets.

Even Wiseman has yet to match that "record" on RRAP.

Poor Mark. When all else fails, resort to profanity. You've seemingly learned well from Wiseman, but you have a way to go.

Profanity, Mark, is the effort of a feeble mind to express itself, and so far you are the embodiment of a feeble mind.
"disgursting" is a neat and new word. I like it! From which dictionary did you glean that? Keep it going, Mark. It will take you but a few weeks to catch up to , and surpass, the hundreds of gross misspellings Wiseman has posted over the course of five years. I can see whereby the Roger Wiseman West Virginia Dictionary will very soon be replaced with the Mark Morgan Down Home List Of Stupidly Spelled Words.
Heck, Mark. Even Wiseman sometimes catches his "typos" and corrects them.
You have no such talent.

Now, Mark. About that glass basement you alluded to...is it cold in the winter? Do you have a phone down there? Maybe you should borrow some curtains from Roger...

Really, Lloydie, now you claim he works at Wal-Mart when you said he

I suggest that everyone that the AUKk00ks have been chasing (yes, group mission k00k posters are real, Alice) join me in alt.usenet.kooks and help me trash the place. WE can have our own elections, chase the k00ks that are chasing kooks around, watch them try and avoid our rocking chairs with their tails, it will be entertaining.

I don't think he can get a TS merely for making empty threats to increase the Sacred Poast Count. Tim Brown set the bar for the TS award, and the bar remains high.

Perhaps if RS didn't sell so much redundant Sprint Telephones, overpriced DVD players and TV's and their UTTERLY USELESS junk toys that start to appear each Labor Day and multiply right up till Xmas, their sales would rise. Personally however I would not miss them if each and every RS were to close and the company was to go the way of FW Woolworth.
Most of the stuff you can get at RS you can usually get at Walmart for 50% less price anyway, plus Walmart employees are usually a tad more intellegent than your average Radio Shack stooge.

I see you fell out of the stupid tree and hit every branch on the way down.
What do you know about talent? Shania was probably singing in bars and resorts with her guitar to pay the bills before you were even born, that was how she got noticed. It had nothing to do with BJ's, she doesn't stoop to your momma's level.

Wrong, Markie.
Lardass Lloyd Davies is just a pizza delivery BOY, and takes orders from a much younger Manager. BWHAHAHAHAHA!

If this is true, it isn't so surprising - a few stores have closed locally. Many are not as busy as they once were and I suspect "might" be going the same way in the near future. "SOME" things are still able to be gotten there that Wal-Mart doesn't supply - BUT - then again - those are the things which "experimenters", "builders", "technicians", "radio enthusiasts" would buy. ALL ELSE - is "Wal-Mart" related type items. Heck - even "Wal-Mart" sells phone plans now for at least a couple companies but they don't hound you when walking in the door to buy one. "IF" Wal-Mart sold "ALL" items that RS handled and "Cheaper" - yeah, I think RS would go DOWN.

Lets not give Wal-Mart TOO much credit here - I hear they're not doing so well all the sudden - either. The local store - ranked one of the top sellers in the nation - parking lot and aisles always full of shoppers, bringing in "millions" a day (data acquired from a good source) - is laying off people, cutting back hours, freezing pay raises, etc. AND I hear that is a trend across the nation in "Wal-Mart". So - even that giant may be coming to it's knees. My question on this issue, is I wonder if it has anything even remotely related to do with the "mexican" hiring policies they were busted on? A retaliation of having to pay "higher" wages to Americans - or shall we say "Legal" residents? They closed a store down in Canada when the people there wanted to form a "union" - so I heard in a news column. Sure makes you wonder. Its amazing what the holder of the wallet can do!

It is interesting (in a sad way) to see these big companies going belly up or at least having woes..... It makes you wonder where we are actually headed. HERE - Wal-Marts ARE one of the biggest employers. If they go out - the unemployment rate will be higher than George Bush Jr. can count. Almost as high as his deficit.
I know Wal-Marts and yes some others too - already gone by the way side - have been accused of killing off the Mom and Pop stores, but the whole picture just plain SUCKS.

I guess the adage applies - it IS a "Dog eat dog" world out there.

Unlike you morkie, the people I communicate with on CW can put together a coherent sentence which makes it rather easy to fill in a missed character or two.

Yeah, really! Sheeesh..... Just because they do CW doesn't mean they misspell. Conditions are one thing - Piss poor spelling is another. Just because the brain is "supposed" to be able to decipher codes and some sentences even if misspelled, doesn't give you (Morkie) the absolute right to act like an asshole and keep typing stupid shit. Maybe it is Morkie who can't comprehend what they're saying. HELL - he can't spell to start with. At least that is what I've gotten from all the examples I've seen. How did you EVER pass the tests?

If you spelled like that all through your eh - learning years, I'm willing to bet you bombed in school. Between what I've seen in the news group(s) and on your web site - wow! Use a damned spell checker. At least that "effort" will make you appear "a" little brighter. Oopps, I forgot, you (Morkie) don't know what "effort" is. You remind me of the dork in Rec.Antique Radio and Phono - always being a pain in the ass to people. He hardly ever makes any sense - even if he does spell correctly, which in this case, I'll give HIM credit for at least that - spelling correctly.

You can join the hams Mark, but if you can't pass the exams all you get is cell phones and CB. If I couldn't have passed the exams, that's all I would get too. Radio spectrum is a priviledge, not a right.

Too many lowlife's think they should have a right to the spectrum without having to work for the priviledges. Your goofy ass is one of them.

Well, lucky for you, your CB buddy's and Markie, you dont have to pass an exam to use the internet. If passing a test were required, you and your CB buddy's would only have telephone, snail-mail, and the smoke signals from your burned up linear finals to communicate with each other.

That's what it sounds like to me.

If CB'ers had to pass a test, maybe they would understand things like distortion, overmodulation, and splatter.

You would automatically get the highest internet license available as much as you troll. You could probably get a pay check also. But when you fill out your 1040EZ form you will have to list kOOk as your occupation.

What kind of life would you have if you couldn't troll RRCB?
When you have something technical to add to this group, Maybe you would be taken seriously. You are no better that Mark Morgan who you troll for Poor Davey, his lie of he always posts undfer his own name is exposed.

Davey does the "Hey Maquerading" dance as he "masquerades" as a human in <x_6Cg.6193$0e5.1895@newsread4.news.pas.earthlink.net>:
".......maquerading......."

Davey K8MN, the lying hypocrite proves he can play the stupid "roles" most effectively when talking about membership rolls in <155Cg.1227$Sn3.141@newsread3.news.pas.earthlink.net>:
"You were on the membership roles"

Dave Heil, aspiring actor, yet English impaired said
In article <425179BB.84722...@earthlink.net>:
"I didn't ask if you cold read."

Dumbass Heil for the defense goes to the "courthous," not the "courthouse" in <IMNBg.5774$0e5.2501@newsread4.news.pas.earthlink.net>:
"....at the courthous, Roger."

Davey's grammar suggestion falls flat as he should really use the suggestion for himself ..."and important" in Message-ID: <I3cIe.255$Wi6....@newsread2.news.pas.earthlink.net>:
"I think little details like spelling and grammar and important to a number of us here in r.r.a.p. Why not have the pool of typists polish the stuff you intend to post here?"

Davey Vile whines to the "Police" even if he can't spell it, too bad they didn't inform him how to correctly spell "Police" in Message-ID: <4tJTe.7145$4P5.1...@newsread2.news.pas.earthlink.net>
"I learned of it during several visits to Glen Dale, WV Polic Chief"

Dave Heil shows off his knowledge of Spelling as well as Geography in <h46If.238$VI6....@newsread1.news.pas.earthlink.net>:
"the one in a narrow velley between two hills"

There Dave Vile goes mangling a sentence again in <_OxKf.2395$VI6.1169@newsread1.news.pas.earthlink.net>:
"There you go underestimated people again."

Dave pegs the irony meter, given his narrow-minded mindset and fascist newsgroup behavior in <8G4Jf.2196$JR6.1413@newsread3.news.pas.earthlink.net>:
"I'm sure that you have difficulty dealing with anyone unlike yourself."

Dave Vile the liar and hypocrite fails to follow his own advice and standards in <4tJTe.7145$4P5.1003@newsread2.news.pas.earthlink.net>:
"Your saying so does not make your statement true. You may think it, but you are not correct."

Hypocrite Dave Vile always demands answers to his questions but when pressed to answer a few questions he always replies as in <c6NTe.2493$9x2.1261@newsread3.news.pas.earthlink.net>:
"I am under no obligation to provide you answers just because you have questions."

BWHAHAHAHA Rabbits also reproduce quite a bit, unlike eunuchs like you who still watch cartoons because that is the highest limit of your level of comprehension. And your sodomizing of your shemale sex partner doesn't count.

Do tell what language that would be, no code cartoon character.

That would be, "I heard dat, I did."
Or, "Ten-Roger, Good Buddy."

Maybe even, "Often imitated, never duplicated."
or...
"There he goes, causing hate and discontent".
or...
"Roger Dee" and "Rodney Dee" and...
"Forty-Two"
.......and ya gotta turn on the echo box and Roger Beep for, "I heard that, I did. I'm on the double nickel and watching for smokey."

And the best? The one the local CB hillbillies like the most? "Shame on the mess."

Did that answer your question? 10-4????

Wiseman did what he always does. He lives in the sewer and as such brings his fellow sewer dwellers with him. Interesting to note that even the AUK dwellers consider Wiseman to be beneath them. They consider him to be a bottom feeder. You can't argue that point.

You wrong. Tood, he work at Omegma One Radio so he can support FCC by paying big fines for illegal ops. Lloyd, he district manager of pizza place now. Larry, nobody know. Roger (who goes by the name "Woger"), he gots to finish up his work release program before he can get back his janitor job (he gone this weekend on work release). Mark, he gets all the money he needs from Al Qaeda, on account they paying him not

It is an ILLEGAL station too, which is what I like a lot. Even its lower sideband sticks out into a part of 9M which is much more restricted than its official freq, so it is doubly illegal, and that is really kewl. Todd can lose his ham license, plus pay a big fine, if he plays his cards right.

Go, Todd, go!

I'm trying to help you, but it won't work unless you put out a little effort and want to improve. But you down want to improve, you refuse to.
That's why you'll never be worth anything as a ham.

Your view toward licensing is just like your EME station Markie. You didn't make an effort there either.

4605. SSB is no good for Omega One music because of phase distortion

So that's why Omega One Radio sounds so shitty. It is simply true that single sided AM signals don't preserve phase when they are detected, and that leads to distortion. You have to use a phase locked loop to do that, provided that the station transmits a small residual carrier or a vestigal sideband for the loop to lock onto.

Otherwise the audio sounds like crap, just like it does on Omega One Radio.

The deal is that Omega One didn't listen to Woger when they asked for his expert opinion. Now they are paying the price and are losing audiophile listeners right and left. Not even Mark Morgan listens any longer.

Not according to people who had accually heard the station. I have a number of people locally and as far away as Maryland, New York, and other locations that heard the station and has email me and written me and says ti's doing just fine. the stations far away say there is no

Ever hear of the second harmonic? Not only is the field strength of your fundamental signal regulated, so are all of its harmonics. The FCC monitors regularly check harmonic radiation out, and I think you will get cited for that one too, which I think is kewl. And then there are the local CBers who use channels 12 and 13 who are hearing your harmonic splatter. They won't wait for official action; they'll come and visit you themselves.

Dude - trust me, if the FCC wants to burn your ass - they will - and I don't care what "color", "religion", etc - you may be. I've seen them burn people of both races for HUGE dollars - more than once. The same guy twice too, for his ignorance to obey the rules. You aren't but a pimple on the governments ass. And they'll pick you off just like anyone else. Go ahead and play your "card". I'll watch for your name in the FCC Digest soon. In case you don't know it, they divulge ALL violators in this digest for all to see. Fines, actions, etc. GO FOR IT.
I can use some good reading material come fall. NEVER SAY NEVER - cause when ya least expect it, they'll be knocking on your door.

Worf was the Klingon officer on TNG and DS9. He has nothing to do with this thread which is about people who want to get something for nothing.

Todd doesn't want to do the hard work necessary to get a real broadcast license, so he starts up a pirate station which is very likely to be operating illegally, thanks to Todd's ignorance and bullheadedness.

We want the FCC to investigate him and then to take him down if his station is illegal. People can't just get on the air because they feel like it. That's why the FCC was created.

Similarly, you want the amateur licensing rules changed so that you don't have to do any work to get on HF. The thought of you on HF makes me shudder. Wiseman is already bad enough, and you'd be even worse. Just look at how you behave on usenet.

In message <1156562885.403573.289840@m73g2000cwd.googlegroups.com>, kb9rqz-ars@hotmail.com makes a death threat when he writes "the mostly ooccasion [sic] where where you might it will be seconds before you die."

4631. FREEWARE - WinCAP Wizard - VOACAP

Greetings,

Our last invitation post was 14 Feb 2006. This one is similar but includes new information and an extra-special offer.

What is WinCAP Wizard? WinCAP Wizard is the most powerful HF Communications Analysis Prediction package ever developed.

Please understand I'm typically a humble type fellow. Unfortunately, if this message isn't compelling, you will likely ignore the tool and miss the offer. Good products do indeed sell themselves. But obviously, folks must first try the product. In a vast sea of amateur radio related products and tools, here is a tool you will probably like and, find very useful. Sure, you have product X, have used it for years and know it well, plus you are busy and don't have time to learn a new tool. But, does this logic keep you from acquiring new hardware, like radios, antennas and computers? Of course not.

You want free software; all of our software now defaults to freeware and provides basic functionality, sufficient for many users. The default WinCAP Wizard v4 download is known as QSL-ware. QSL-ware basically means freeware. <G>. We do appreciate an email acknowledgement and comments - thus our term QSL-ware.

This QSL-ware version provides unlimited point-to point and NCDXF beacon predictions. The extensive "Location Browser" provides a prefix search along with other useful information. The unique "Beacon SmartChart" and the Smart-Map-Geographic View are in this basic feature set. There are 2 point-to point charts and 3 beacon charts, each with numerous options, 4 point-to point reports and 4 beacon reports - all free.

The registered version adds a lot of tools and functionality. The "Coverage-Analysis View", is an elaborate map with the ability to plot any of 7 parameters, for up to 9 frequencies and all 24 hours. View any hour and frequency for each predicted parameter with a mouse click. More? A DX-list plot and search are provided. The Coverage-Analysis View provides several additional unique features.

Also included in the registered version is the "User Batch" prediction type. With the ability to analyze up to 18 unique circuits and present the results with 5 charts and 3 reports our user batch mode is both powerful and flexible.

Special user-batch prediction "views" provide definite advantages for the contest-oriented op. The Contest-Plan SmartChart and Contest-Plan SmartReport deliver incredible insight into "when to be where" during the contest. These could also be useful to the savvy DXer.

Sorry - I can't list all the advantages here - this is already too long. But if all this isn't enough, the registered WinCAP Wizard package includes GeoAlert-Extreme Wizard and Beacon Time Wizard, as a free bonus.

A 60-day full trial key is available upon request. Try the software tools. If you don't think them worthy of being paid for, they revert back to the default QSL-ware/freeware mode and functionality, without time limit.

Is there any question WinCAP Wizard is the leader in the HF propagation prediction category? If so, that thought should soon be wiped away. The next major version, v5, is due for release very soon. As we say, the best keeps getting better. <VBG>

Before a brief introduction on the main features of the new version, the special offer. Register v4 now and qualify for a free upgrade to v5.

WinCAP Wizard v5 provides a "Contest-Log Manager" and imports Cabrillo format logs from 55 different HF contests; more contests can be added easily, upon request. The logs can then be plotted to the "area coverage" map view - with or without predictions. The logs can, of course, be filtered and plotted by day, band, hour and any combination of these.

To my knowledge no other software exists to geocode calls for stations worldwide. There may be software that plots US, and even Canadian, calls. Do you know of any? Are you interested in this functionality? Can you imagine the possibilities?

The v5 prefix search features are among the finest available. The QSL-ware version also benefits - through the Location Browser.

Both USA and Canadian call lookup is provided. The primary purpose is log station geocoding but the ability is "way cool" and proving interesting. <G> For example, using the prefix/call search on the area-coverage view, you can begin typing a call and the great-circle path is plotted; as you continue typing, the great-circle plot changes to show the prefix and - as you complete the call - the actual location is plotted.

There are other minor enhancements over v4. The new WinCAP Wizard v5 provides an extensive set of powerful tools. Hopefully users will be able to easily do complex and interesting comparisons -that previously were too labor intense and time consuming.

Still, if you use a competing tool, not to worry, they can surely add a few of our choice features. <VBG> But it's doubtful they can add them all.

In any case, you are invited to download and use WinCAP Wizard version 4 in the QSL-ware mode without time limit. You will also find several other useful amateur-radio related software products at www.taborsoft.com

Don't miss the ID Wizard freeware. It provides a rich set of useful "tools".

Thanks for reading this far. Hope to work you in a contest.

Cheers,
KU5S

* PLEASE NOTE: The report "could" contain "Pirate/SLIM" operations or more likely a "BUSTED CALLSIGN". As always, you never know - "Work First Worry Later" (WFWL).

100 POUND DXPEDITION (VP2M). Members of the "Buddipole Users on Montserrat" (BUMS) will mount a DXpedition to the island of Montserrat (NA-103) from January 29th to Feburary 6th, 2007. It seems DXpeditions have now moved from Microlite to Ultralite. DXpedition team members will pack light for this DXpedition taking only lightweight transceivers and portable antennas. The maximum equipment weight taken to the island will be 100 pounds per person. With this lightweight equipment, the team plans many on island portable operations in the hills, on the beach, and from the volcano observatory on the southern part of the island. The team members mentioned are: Budd/W3FF, Chris/W6HFP, Dan/WZ1P, Paul/KB9AVO, Mike/KC4VG and Scott/NE1RD. All VP2M callsigns for the team members, QSL information, operating frequencies, and operating schedules will be released prior to the team's departure in January 2007. Check their Web site for more information and updates at: http://dxpedition-vp2m.com/

Also, you can follow along with the planning, preparation, execution, and follow through on this DXpedition through NE1RD's blog, "The 100 Pound DXpedition", at: http://100pounddxpedition.blogspot.com

5A, LIBYA (Update OPDX.765). Andy, DJ7IK, Team Coordinator for the DX-pedition to Libya, informs OPDX that there is an appeal for funds/hardware and equipment for setting up a club station in Tripoli. In addition to funds, the team needs transceiver(s), microphone, headphones (or headset), morse key, GP-vertical, coax cables and antenna wire. An international team will activate Libya between November 15-29th. The callsign will be 5A7A. Activity will be on all bands with CW and SSB, and for the first time ever, digital modes on RTTY, SSTV and PSK plus another first will be FM. Club and personal sponsors are welcome. If you can help out with a donation, please contact the 5A7A team at: 5a7a@gmx.de

9H, MALTA. Several members of the Dutch Vereniging van Radio Zend Amateurs (VRZA) will be active from Qawra (JM75fw) on Malta (EU-023), starting the evening of September 9th through the morning of October 3rd. The callsign for the group will once again be 9H0VRZ. However, group members will also use their individual 9H3 callsigns, activity will be on all bands from 80-6 meters, CW, SSB and Digital modes. They will try to activate their special callsign 9H0VRZ for the whole period and hope for good conditions. Also, they will try to be active during the WAE-SSB Contest with their VERY special callsign 9H9PA on 20 meters ONLY for stations outside Europe on September 9-10th. DX stations are asked to show some patience since many of the operators are inexperienced in working/giving QTCs. QSL via the Bureau is "OK", also direct via their managers is "OK", but please NO IRC coupons, ONLY Green Stamp(s). Here are the individual callsigns with the QSL route:
9H3AB via PA1SL 9H3YL via PA0XYL
9H3HS via PE2HSB 9H3YM via PE1OFJ
9H3IE via PA0BEA 9H3YN via PA3CUZ
9H3ON via PG9W 9H3X via PE1NGF
9H3QH via PH2M 9H3ZR via PB9ZR
9H0VRZ via PB9ZR: Ruben v.d. Zwet, Barentszstraat 1, 2161 TJ LISSE, The Netherlands.
9H9PA (for 2006) via PH2M: Frank de Wilde, Zuidegge 4, 2391 DA Hazerswoude-Dorp, The Netherlands

DO, GERMANY (Novices now on the air!). As of of September 1st, 2006, German "DO" prefix stations (CEPT Novice class E) are allowed to transmit on some HF bands. Look for them on the following bands:

1810-1850 kHz with 100 W PEP 80/15/10 meters band with 100 W PEP
1850-1890 kHz with 75 W PEP 2m/70cm with 75 W PEP
1890-2000 kHz with 10 W PEP 10 GHZ with 5 W PEP Germam class A's are allowed to transmit now even on 7100-7200 kHz with 250 W PEP and on 50 MHz.

DX MAGAZINE'S 2006 MOST WANTED SURVEY is now posted on the Web at:
http://www.dxpub.com
DX Magazine's Editor Carl, N4AA, states, "Just click on '2006 SURVEY' and you will see the form. PLEASE be careful to select the correct CONTINENT and/or NA TIME ZONE. If you make a mistake, submit it again correctly. I will delete any surveys that are improperly marked for these two items.
Thanks for your cooperation in taking the survey. Please spread the word to all your DXing friends so they can participate." PLEASE NOTE: Swains Island is not listed. Carl states, "My apologies for that. The form was already in print, for the magazine, before it became a reality. To simplify compiling the results, I left it off the web list as well. I am going to assume that the majority of you need KH8/S. However, if you wish, you can add it in the ADDITIONS & COMMENTS box at the end of the survey form."

DXCC NEWS. Toma, YU1AB, informs OPDX that Bill Moore, NC1L, ARRL DXCC Branch Manager, reports that the 4O3AB and 4O3ES operations from Montenegro are approved for DXCC credit effective August 15th, 2006.

EA8, CANARY ISLANDS (AF-004). Stephan, DK3TNA, will be active as EA8/DK3TNA from the Island of Tenerife (S-012 for the Spanish Islands Award, WLOTA LH-1276), October 7-12th. Activity will be in the evening hours on 80-15 meters SSB, using a FT-897 w/100 watts and a vertical antenna. QSL via his home callsign, direct or by the bureau.

FY, FRENCH GUIANA. Gregg, W6IZT, will be active as FY/W6IZT from September 12-20th. Activity will be on 80-10 meters CW and SSB. QSL via his home callsign.

IOTA NEWS.....
EU-008. The Sands Contest Group will activate the Isle of Mull from September 24-29th. They hope to be operational on most modes and most HF bands. The callsign to be used will be the club call MS0SCG.

EU-049/
EU-174. Dimitrios, SV2BWC, will be active as J48LEK from Lesvos Island
(EU-049, MIA MG-064) and other satellite islands such as Panagia (EU-174, MIA MG-080), now through September 7th. This activation is by the Hellenic Commando Association Radio Club. Activity will be on 80/40/20 meters CW/SSB. QSL via SV2BWC (QRZ.com).

EU-088. Operators Frank/DL2SWW and Gabi/DF9TM will be active as homecall/p from Laesoe Island from now until September 15th.
Activity will be on 80-10 meters CW/SSB. Possible operations will take place on 160 meters on CW and 6 meters. QSL via their home callsigns (QRZ.com).

EU-129. Helmut, DL7VOX, will be active as DL7VOX/p from Usedom Island (O-013 for the German Islands Award) now through September 15th. Activity will be CW on 160-10 meters. QSL via his home callsign, by the bureau or direct.

EU-159. (Lighthouse Op!) On Sepember 14th, weather permitting, look for operators Jacques/F5JY, Daniel/F5LGQ and Alain/F6BFH, to be active from Cordouan Island's lighthouse (DIFM AT-032, and lighthouse references: DPLF PB 018, WLOTA 0271, ARLHS FRA-007 and WLH F-012) starting around 1600z and ending on September 15th, around 1200z, Activity will be on 40/30/20/17/15 meters on CW and SSB. Operators will sign homecall/p. QSL via their home callsigns; and bureau is 100%.

NA-029. George, K3GV, will be active as K3GV/VY2 from Prince Edward Island (CIsA PE-001) between now and September 17th. Activity will be on 20/15 meters around the usual IOTA frequencies. QSL via his home callsign, direct or by the bureau.

J2, DJIBOUTI. Jean-Claude, J28JA, who will be here for about the next two years, has been very active mainly on 20/17 meters CW between 1330-1400z and again afte 1800z. He has done some SSB. QSL via F5JFU: Pierre Desseneux, Le Bourg, 58140 ST. Martin du Puy, FRANCE.

KP4, PUERTO RICO. James, KH2RU, will be active as KH2RU/KP4 during the CQWW DX SSB Contest (October 28-29th) as a Single-Op/Single-Band (10m) entry. He mentions that "I will be operating continuosly on 10 meters if propagation permits, if not 20 meters or 15 meters." QSL direct to his home callsign.

NEW OFFICERS FOR 2006-2007. The new officers for the Central Texas DX and Contest Club (CTDXCC) are as follows for September 2006 through August 2007: President Jay Sewell, W5SL Secretary Jim George, N3BB
Vice-Pres. Larry Hammel, K5OT Treasurer Jim Wallgren, K5WWT

Ken Harker, WM5R, continues as Internet Web-master and reflector support person.

OH0, ALAND ISLANDS. Hadi, DJ2PJ, will be active as OH0JWH again from Eckeroe Island (EU-002), September 26th until October 8th. His focus will be on the low bands, especially 160 meters. Modes will be CW and everything except SSB (Hadi states he is microphone allergic!), even OLIVIA, CONTESTIA etc. QSL via DJ2PJ, by the bureau or direct using the QRZ.COM address. E-mail bureau requests with log extract are also welcome and go to: oh0@dj2pj.de
This is a holiday operation with plenty of ham radio. Visit Hadi's Web page for more details and pictures at: http://www.dj2pj.de

P4, ARUBA. Larry, WO0Z, will operate as P40LL from September 30th through October 6th. Activity will be on 80-10 meters, CW, SSB, and perhaps RTTY. QSL via WO0Z.

P4, ARUBA. John, KK9A, will be active as P40A during the CQWW DX SSB Contest (October 28-29th) as a Single-Op/All-Band entry. QSL via WD9DZV.

QSL INFO AND NEWS.................
NOT THE QSL MANAGER. Mike, KA2AEV, reports that someone has posted some info on various sites that he is the QSL Manager for A51DX. He states he is NOT the manager and please DO NOT QSL A51DX via KA2AEV. Mike will attempt to return any direct QSLs that he receives direct if they have return postage. He will not return any A51DX QSLs received via the bureau for the obvious reasons.

Bob, N2OO, reports that he has IRCs for sale. Reduced price. Sales support 3Y0X. For details, visit: http://www.peterone.com/ircs.htm

SPECIAL EVENT. Look for special event station SN100SZ to be active throughout the month of September to celebrate the 100th anniversary of the Babiogorski Park Narodowy. No other details were provided. QSL via SP9PGB, by the Bureau or direct. Picture of the QSL and probably more details about the operation are available at the following Web (but in Polish) at: http://www.sbgk.qtc.pl/ramki/sbgk.htm

SPECIAL EVENT. The W6APD Anaheim Police ARC will operate as K6P from September 10-17th. This special event will commemorate POW-MIA Rememberance Day. Suggested frequencies will be 14253, 18150, 21350, 24950 and 28450 kHz as propagation permits. QSL via KM6HB: Mark McMullen, P.O.Box 27271, Santa Ana, Calif 92799 U.S.A. (w/SASE for picture QSL card).

SPECIAL EVENT (ISWL). The International Shortwave League (ISWL), continue with their 60th (Diamond) anniversary celebrations throughout the month of September. Look for the following activities:

GB60SWL - Will be active for 1 day, Sunday, September 24th, from the Thornton Abbey, in Lincolnshire. The station is being run by the Grimsby ARS. (A Club Affiliated to the ISWL).

GB6SWL - Will be active for 2 days, September 16-17th, from Belfast, Northern Ireland. The Station is being run by the City of Belfast Radio Amateur Society - COBRAS. (A Club Affiliated to the ISWL).

GB6SWL - Will be active for 2 days, September 23-24th, from the Thornton Abbey, in Lincolnshire. The Station is being run by the Grimsby ARS (A Club Affiliated to the ISWL).

GB6SWL - Will be active for 2 days, September 30th and 1st October, from Ivybridge, in Devonshire. Peter, G4VFG, will be the main operator.

MX1SWL/p - Look for the International Shortwave League (ISWL) callsign MX1SWL/p to be used by Chris, M0DOL (ISWL G-21106), during the month of September. Chris will be mainly active from various castles. There will be some special QSL cards made for this callsign used in September, so listen out for MX1SWL/p. QSL via G6XOU. More information is available on QRZ.com.

ADDED NOTE: The ISWL Awards Program is open to non members for a very small fee, to cover postage to any country in the world. Please see the following Web page for all details, including QSL information and the Special Diamond Anniversay Awards etc.... at: http://www.iswl.org.uk

SV9, CRETE (EU-015). Operators Roberto/I2WIJ, Salvatore/IK8UND, Cortesi/ IZ4DPV and Giorgio/IZ4AKS will be active as J49Z from Heraklio during the CQWW DX SSB Contest (October 28-29th) as a Multi-Single entry. QSL via IK8UND, direct ONLY. Visit their Web page at:
http://www.qsl.net/i2wij/j49z/j49z.html

TA4, TURKEY. Sei, JF1SQC/KH0DQ, will active as TA4/KH0DQ from September 9-15th. Activity will be on all HF bands with 100w on SSB, CW, and possibly RTTY. He will also participate in WAE SSB Contest. QSL via JF1SQC.

TK, CORSICA (EU-014). Members of the "Dx4Dx Team" will operate from here between September 28th and October 5th. Callsign(s) have not yet been announced. Activity will be on 160-10 meters including the WARC bands, SSB, CW, RTTY and PSK. Operators mentioned are: Pere/EA3CUU, Paco/EA4BT, Emilio/EA7AAW, Julio/EA7JB, Jose/EA7LS and Ramon/EB4EPJ. QSL via EA4BT, direct or by the bureau. Visit the Dx4Dx Web page at: http://www.dx4dx.com

V3, BELIZE. Larry, WO0Z, will be active as V31LL from October 7-21th. Activity will be on 80-10 meters, CW, SSB, and perhaps RTTY. QSL via WO0Z.

XE, MEXICO. Fernando, EA1CNF, will be active as XE1/EA1CNF between now and September 9th. He will be using an Icom 706 and a Buddistick vertical antenna. QSL via EA1CNF, direct or bureau (QRZ.com).

XF4, REVILLAGIGEDO. A Mexican and German team of operators are planning a DXpedition to Socorro Island (NA-030), in the Revillagigedo Islands group, to take place between October 17th and November 3rd. The announced callsign will be XF4DL, and the team members mentioned are: Joe/DF7TH, Gerhard/DJ5IW, Franz/DJ9ZB, Karl/DK2WV, Dietmar/DL3DXX, Juergen/DL8LE, Markus/DL9RCF, Ismael/XE1AY, Fabian/XE1FRF, Daniel/XE1FXF, Saul/XE1FXM, Victor/XE1FXZ, Rafael/XE1GRR, Parcival/XE1HBU, Margarito/ XE1MMB, Yuri/XE1UN and Hector/ XE2K. Activity will be on all bands, CW, SSB, Digital, EME and the satellites. QSL via N6AWD for North-America, and DL9NDS for the rest of the world. Visit their Web page at: http://www.xf4dl.xedx.org/

ZL, NEW ZEALAND (Update/A Few Ops Still Needed!). Brian/KA7KUZ and Brian/ZL1AZE continue (still looking) to assemble an international team entry in the 2006 CQ WW SSB Contest from the Quartz Hill (ZL6QH) super-station. Transportation will be provided to and from Wellington Airport with accommodation provided at the station. With the assortment of Vee beams, yagi beams, rhombic and low band sloper antennas available at this site, there will be no shortage of operating opportunities before, during and after the contest. This may be the last CQ WW SSB Contest from ZL6QH for some time; it is likely that the antennas will be removed in 2007 for the construction of a wind farm. If interested, please contact KA7KUZ at:
ka7kuz@arrl.net
Visit the Quartz Hill's Web page at: http://www.zl6qh.com

Which is more than stevieboy could ever do. Steveo will always be stuck to operating illegally because he couldn't pass the amateur exam even if he tried.

Which means you completely moved away from the subject. It was expected, based upon your posting history. You are the weirdest person posting to these newsgroups these days.

Congratulations. There are few people who can be stranger than Wiseman, but you manage it consistently.

Any new visitors to the group would like to help.

Send this to the ARRL and the FCC. Thanks

Step 1: No more automatic renewals. Individuals must retest and pass all elements required for their license class.

Step 2: The passing score for written exams needs to be raised to 85%.

Step 3: Code elements should be 13 wpm for General, and 20 wpm for Extra.

Step 4: Make the no-code license one year non-renewable.

Step 5: Cancel your league membership until they decide to work with us to improve the service.

Thanks

I try to help motivate you radio wise, and don't argue with you on other things not related to radio. Like, if you want to believe you were in the army that's okay by me, I won't argue with you on that. And if you're happy being a Faggot, more power to ya. But I'd like to see you make some something of yourself in ham radio so people with stop teasing you radio wise.

If they still tease you over your retarded queer-ass make believe army veteran story, I can't help you with that.

The thing about Scheissman is that even if was sent to prison it would do little to reform him. He's definitely past the stage of being capable of self-governance which is what reformatories attempt to do. After all, do you really think that cleaning up a turd like Scheissman makes him any less of a turd?

Scheissman just wants to blame others for his jamming episodes a few years back when he was running 20 meters and trying albeit weakly to jam some people on 14.275, 3.950, 14.313 and other frequencies

It wouldn't hurt my feelings to see Radio Shack continue to downsize other than the people losing their jobs. That always is a bad situation but the company has forgotten what made it a growing company. I remember years ago being able to go into a RS store and get practically any electronic part within reason and actually talk to someone with enough technical knowledge to know what it is and what it does. Like the rest of corporate America, they have eliminated the jobs of the knowledgeable so they can pay dolts a bit more than minimum wage.

Yet is was you who had egg all over his face after your statement that I nowhere appeared on State's Key Officer's Lists, a list that no one would be likely to confuse with "key lists". I worked professionally with crypto material every day. I never worked with a "key list".

Amateur radio doesn't use crypto material.

May I be so bold as to ask what Len's credentials are insofar as having been a member of the Military? No, his days as a Civil Servant working at an Air Force base in Mississippi count for nil. We all know how Len performed while there. He had a penchant for posting to numerous Newsgroups while using his employers' computers and yeah, had several times posted comments over the callsign of an Amateur with whom he had past differences.
Len has, for a short while anyway, seemingly stopped posting over the callsign of this unsuspecting Amateur, but ONLY because of one, astute Usenet watchdog who likes to "out" Len.
In my humble opinion, any veracity that Len may have had went down the proverbial tubes when he stooped so low as to post not once, but numerous times over the callsign of this unsuspecting (and undeserving) Amateur. His actions were not only uncalled-for, but were childishly tawdry.
This alone speaks volumes of Lennie....

Interesting. In a subsequent post, you use the following:

"Lots of inbreeding going on in the morsemen ranks."

"I wonder where Jimmy Noserve is hiding?"

"Jimmie Noserve showed up with his bimonthly Numbers (his period on?)"

"Robeson showed up wondering who "Robesin" is..."

"Well, Robesin IS a PRETENDER to be sure..."

You blew in here after a lengthy absence and immediately began ad a participant in amateur radio.

I have for sale from an estate a Ten Tec Scout with the 40m and 15m modules. Also included are the following: cables, mic, manual, 607 keyer paddle, 937 power supply, mobile mount, and 1203 dummy load kit (I haven't found the instruction sheet for the dummy load kit). It appears that the radio and accessories have never been used. The cables, mic, and mobile mount appear to be in original packing. I believe that it has the noise blanker installed as the instruction and installation instructions for the noise blanker are included. I would like to sell the entire package, if possible. I'm asking $450 for all. If interested please contact me via email or telephone at 972-231-7511. I'm in the Dallas, TX area. If you are in the Dallas/FTW area or reasonably close I would be pleased to meet with you and let you inspect the items.

You know, I've now read so many of these RS slams...and, I suppose, they are mostly accurate. However, they are true due to the nature of a failing business model. That model tried to keep part of the business catering to the electronics experimenter. (You CAN still get caps, resistors, etc. there.) Their failure comes, in part, out of this desire to appease the very people who deride them for it.

I bet I've been RS 4 times in a month, each time buying $10 or less in supplies. Who can pay the rent on such purchases?

Hasn't anyone seen the same thing happen to hardware stores?
The "good old days" of a knowledgeable hardware man spending more than 5 minutes with you to sell a 50 cent item are also mostly gone. The biggest difference is that hardware stores-of-old lost out to the "big box" hardware warehouses. If RS goes (and it probably will), there is no alternative to the electronics experimenter other than the internet.

In my area, at least, there are no components, circuit boards, solder, etc in the "big box" stores.

Maybe the rest of the stuff they sell is crap...now it's the same crap you can get at WalMart.

I, for one, will miss RS if it goes. In fact, I have a bit of a soft spot for RS because that's where I got started getting interested in ham radio. Has it changed over the years? You bet. Why not get out an old picture of yourself and look in the mirror. Have YOU changed?

Well, L let me tell you a few things.....I will continue to run this station, and I WILL fight the FCC on this....After all why should I Apply for a license if the FCC isn't going to consider my application and waivers?? and believe my, I've applied many times from many different types of broadcast license. I know a few individuals on the House Subcommittee on Telecommunications (The FCC BOSS) who agree with me on this. So let the Facist Communication Commission (FCC) come after me, we go to the court and they will have to explain themsleves to the judge, why they didn't consider my seven application and seven waivers, after the Federal Courts told them they had to consider waivers. The FCC will also have to explain to a judge why they put outa bulletin that is misleading and the fact the power output for Part 15 is in the nanowatt (not milliwatts like so many believe) and the fact the FCC has gone to the Federal courts claiming that a person could run a Part 15 broadcast station, when in fact the power is so so low that as the FCC put it in a ORDER back in 1974 "part 15 is not designed for broadcasting due to it extremely low power.) So let see the FCC explain to the Judge why they fucking lied all these years about those things.

HEY STUPID FUCK, I've applied Seven times for a broadcast license with waivers. The FCC wouldn't consider my application or waiver so you and your little bitches at the FCC "bring it on" let's see them go in front of judge and explain why they didn't consider my application or waivers after the fucking courts told them to do so. Like I told some members of the House subcommittee on Telecommunication why the hell should I continue to apply for a license with waiver if their (TheFCC) isn't going to consider them?? it's a waste of time and money...So like I said bring on bitch!!

Oooooo!!!! TROLL and a half!!! :-)

>May I be so bold as to ask what Len's credentials are insofar as having been >a member of the Military?

http://sujan.hallikainen.org/BroadcastHistory/uploads/My3Years.pdf

6 MB file size, takes about 19 minutes download over dial-up.

Also try /AlphabetSoup.pdf, similar in size, to see a copy of a brochure of the same facilities a few years afterwards (produced by the signal battalion I had been stationed to).

Now, what are YOUR credentials, "Tommy Edison?" :-)

Loved your light bulbs but you wanted DC instead of AC.
Bad choice.

>No, his days as a Civil Servant working at an Air >Force base in Mississippi count for nil.

Of course they are "nil." I've never ever worked in Civil Service, nor even as a servant. :-)

I've never been IN the state of Mississippi, let alone a USAF base there. Closest might be Michoud, LA, while working for Rocketdyne division of Rockwell International.

>We all know how Len performed while there.

I "performed?" On stage? :-)

Do you need to see my AFTRA card? :-)

>He had a penchant for posting to numerous Newsgroups while using his >employers' computers and yeah, had several times posted comments over the >callsign of an Amateur with whom he had past differences.

I did? What was this mysterious callsign?

Seeing as I'm self-employed but mostly retired, I use my own computers for computer-modem comms. I have four, two PCs and a couple of 8-bitters of early days.

I've never, ever tried to use anyone else's amateur radio callsign. If you look at issues of Ham Radio magazine you will see several articles with my byline on them; none of those bylines contain an amateur radio callsign.

>Len has, for a short while anyway, seemingly stopped posting over the >callsign of this unsuspecting Amateur, but ONLY because of one, astute >Usenet watchdog who likes to "out" Len.

A "watchdog?" Arf, arf! :-)

Other than seeming to be on some VERY heavy "stuff," your confusion MIGHT stem from a voluntary summary and statistics Comment made to the FCC on Docket 98-143. The compiler of that document confused my NAME with the callsign of another 'Leonard H. Anderson' who lives in Montana and does have an amateur radio license. I notified the compiler and cleared up the confusion...but the document remains with the FCC as-is and hasn't been corrected there. I live in southern California and have never met nor communicated with this other Anderson.

If you do a Search on the Internet you will find several 'Leonard Anderson" names. One is a USMC Major who recently finished a tour with the USN Blue Angels aerial demonstration team. Another is an actor in the Los Angeles area. My name comes up as a character in a Role-Playing Game of some future space-battle game; I forget which one and that is irrelevant.

>In my humble opinion, any veracity that Len may have had went down the
>times over the callsign of this unsuspecting (and undeserving) Amateur.

Identify who and where these postings occurred.

As I've said, I've never ever tried to, nor had any need to "impersonate" anyone in any newsgroup nor on any website.
I am secure in who I am and what I've done.

>His
>actions were not only uncalled-for, but were childishly tawdry.
>This alone speaks volumes of Lennie....

Tommie boy, you've just described yourself in your posting.

Now go crawl into a light bulb and think about your error in not choosing AC over DC. And stay off that hard stuff before your mind gets bent more than what you've shown here.

You can be a ham, Mark, but only if you decide to make an effort to be one.
Dumbing down ham radio the way you want is like burning down the club house and selling the land to CB'ers.

Why would you be worried if he did? Wait a minute unless your sly self is wanting someone to give you Anal Injected Death Serun. Isn't a shame that have that low of an opinion of your life. Well, then again it isn't as if you've really done anything noteworthy.

Repost them all you want. Thay don't prove Roger was jamming. He never got any fines nor was his license suspended.

NOTE: Issuance by the FCC of a Warning Notice indicates that the FCC has what it believes to be reliable evidence of possible rules infractions and not necessarily that the recipient has violated FCC rules. The FCC has the authority, pursuant to §97.519(d)(2) of the rules to readminister any examination element previously administered by a volunteer examiner.

Wrong again, dumbfuck. You can't read can you?

Like anyone here believes your story, right 2 TEST? They don't make people retest unless they have violated the rules and shown they aren't responsible with their privleges. I've been an amateur radio operator for years and can tell you that I've never received a letter much less anything less than complimentary about my station. You on the other hand show what a filthy loser you are every time you key the mike.

You can't read, can you, Toad? You'll be getting a big NAL soon enough.
You haven't been a ham radio operator at all, Toad, you are just a wannabe. You had to take your tests a few times before you could even pass them. You only have the beginner's training wheel license because you can't pass the morse code\ like Markie, either. Wiseman passed his twice, (which was 6 years ago, you sure couldn't retake yours and pass them) and upgraded. So much for those "sanctions" if that's what they are. How is it Wiseman never had his license suspended or revoked? You can't sem to answer that one, you just make more excuses.

The FCC has the authority, pursuant to §97.519(d)(2) of the rules to readminister any examination element previously administered
by a volunteer examiner.

Now cry a river, cunt.

Talk like that is never justified.

You know, although I really don't want to read such sickness any more than necessary, I read it again. It appears that Robesin is saying that his excrement is on "another man's genitals."

That just opens up a lot of questions...

Do you suppose that Robesin was sodomized?

The 30 Steps below will help all New Hams, it will also help you to find others just like yourself. These 30 steps should also be added to the present writtens.

Step One: Use as many "Q" signals as possible. Yes, I know they were invented solely for CW and are totally inappropriate for two meter FM, but they are fun and entertaining. They keep people guessing as to what you really meant. I.E. "I'm going to QSY to the phone." Can you really change frequencies to the phone? QSL used to mean, "I am acknowledging receipt", but now it appears to mean, "yes" or "OK". I guess I missed it when the ARRL changed the meaning. It is also best to use "OK" and "QSL" together. Redundancy is the better part of Lid-dom.

Step Two: Never laugh when you can say "HI HI". No one will ever know you aren't a long time CW rag-chewer if you don't tell them. They'll think you've been on since the days of Marconi.

Step Three: Utilize an alternative vocabulary. Use words like "destinated" and "negatory". It's OK to make up your own words here. I.E. "Yeah Tom, I "pheelbart zaphonix" occasionally myself."

Step Four: Always say "XX4XXX" (Insert your own call) "for I.D." As mentioned in Step One, anything that creates redundancy is always encouraged. That's why we have the Department of Redundancy Department. (Please note that you can follow your call with "for identification purposes" instead of "for I.D." While taking longer to say, it is worth more "LID points".

Step Five: The better the copy on two meter FM, the more you should use phonetics. Names should be especially used if they are short or common ones. I.E. "My name is Al... Alpha Lima" or "Jack.. Juliet Alpha Charlie Kilo." If at all possible use the less common HF phonetics "A4SM... America, Number Four, Sugar Mexico." And for maximum "LID points", make up unintelligible phonetics. "My name is Bob... Billibong Oregano Bumperpool."

Step Six: Always give the calls of yourself and everyone who is (or has been) in the group, whether they are still there or not. While this has been unnecessary for years, it is still a great memory test. You may also use "and the group" if you are an "old timer" or just have a bad memory. Extra points for saying everyone's call and then clearing in a silly way "K2PKK, Chow, Chow."

Step Seven: Whenever possible, use the wrong terminology. It keeps people guessing. Use "modulation" when you mean "deviation", and vice-versa.

Step Eight: If someone asks for a break, always finish your turn, taking as long as possible before turning it over. Whenever possible, pass it around a few times first. This will discourage the breaker, and if it is an emergency, encourage him to switch to another repeater and not bother you.

Step Nine: Always ask involved questions of the person who is trying to sign out. Never let him get by with just a "yes" or "no" answer. Make it a question that will take him a long time to answer.

Step Ten: The less you know on a subject, the more you should speculate about it in the roundtable. Also the amount of time you spend on the subject should be inversely proportionate to your knowledge of the subject even though you have no damn clue.

Step Eleven: Always make sure you try to communicate with only a handheld and a rubber duck antenna. Also, make sure you work through a repeater that you can hear very well, but it cannot hear you. This will put out a kind of "LID mating call": "Well, Joe, I can hear the repeater just fine here. I wonder why it can't hear me?" You will score maximum LID points if you are mobile, and with the radio lying in the passenger seat.

Step Twelve: If you hear two amateurs start a conversation, wait until they are twenty seconds into their contact, and then break in to make a call, or better yet to use the auto-patch. Make sure you keep the repeater tied up for at least three minutes. This way, once the two have re-established contact, they won't even remember what they were talking about.

Step Thirteen: You hear someone on the repeater giving directions to a visiting amateur. Even if the directions are good, make sure you break in with your own "alternate route but better way to get there" version. This is most effective with several other "would-be LIDs", each giving a different route. By the time the visiting amateur unscrambles all the street names whizzing by in his mind, he should have moved out of the range of the repeater. This keeps you from having to stick around to help the guy get back out of town, later.

Step Fourteen: If an annoying station is bothering you, make sure your other "LID" buddies have a "coded" frequency list. Even though "CODES" are strictly forbidden on Amateur Radio, it's really neat to practice "James Bond" tactics.

Step Fifteen: Always use the National Calling Frequency for general conversations. The more uninteresting, the longer you should use it. Extra points are awarded if you have recently move from an adjacent frequency for no reason. Make sure when DX is "rolling" in on 52.525 that you hang out there and talk to your friends five miles down the road about the good old CB days!

Step Sixteen: Make sure that if you have a personal problem with someone, you should voice your opinion in a public forum, especially a net. Make sure you give their name, call, and any other identifying remarks. For maximum points, make sure the person in question is not on the repeater, or not available.

Step Seventeen: Make sure you say the first few words of each transmission twice, especially if it is the same thing each time. Like "roger, roger" or "fine business, fine business". I cannot stress enough about encouraging redundancy.

Step Eighteen: If you hear a conversation on a local repeater, break in and ask how each station is receiving you. Of course they will only see the signal of the repeater you are using, but it's that magic moment when you can find a fellow "LID", and get the report. Extra points are awarded if you are using a base station, and the repeater is less than twenty-five air miles from you.

Step Nineteen: Use the repeater for an hour or two at a time, preventing others from using it. Better yet, do it on a daily basis. Your quest is to make people so sick of hearing your voice every time they turn on their radio, they'll move to another frequency. This way you'll lighten the load on the repeater, leaving even more time for you to talk on it.

Step Twenty: See just how much flutter you can generate by operating at handheld power levels too far away from the repeater. Engage people in conversations when you know they wont be able to copy half of what your saying. Even when they say your uncopyable, continue to string them along by making further transmissions. See just how frustrated you can make the other amateur before he finally signs off in disgust.

Step Twenty One: Use lots of radio jargon. After all, it makes you feel important using words ordinary people don't say. Who cares if it makes you sound like you just fell off Channel 19 on the citizen's Band? Use phrases such as "Roger on that", "10-4", "I'm on the side", "Your making the trip" and "Negatory on that".

Step Twenty Two: Use excessive microphone gain. See just how loud you can make your audio. Make sure the audio gain is so high that other amateurs can hear any bugs crawling on your floor. If mobile, make sure the wind noise is loud enough that others have to strain to pick your words out from all the racket.

Step Twenty Three: Start every transmission with the word "Roger" or "QSL". Sure, you don't need to acknowledge that you received the other transmission in full. After all, you would simply ask for a repeat if you missed something. But consider it your gift to the other amateur to give him solace every few seconds that his transmissions are being received.

Step Twenty Four: When looking for a contact on a repeater, always say your "listening" or "monitoring" multiple times. I've always found that at least a half dozen times or so is good. Repeating your multiple "listening" ID's every 10 to 15 seconds is even better. Those people who didn't want to talk to you will eventually call you, hoping you'll go away after you have finally made a contact.

Step Twenty Five: Always use a repeater, even if you can work the other station easily on simplex ... especially if you can make the contact on simplex. The coverage of the repeater you use should be inversely proportional to your distance from the other station.

Step Twenty Six: When on repeaters using courtesy tones, you should always say "over". Courtesy tones are designed to let everyone know when you have unkeyed but don't let that stop you. Say "over", "back to you" or "go ahead". It serves no useful purpose but don't worry, it's still fun!

Step Twenty Seven: Use the repeater's autopatch for frivolous routine calls... especially during morning or evening commute times. While pulling into the neighborhood, call home to let them know you'll be there in two minutes.... or, call your spouse to complain about the bad day you had at work. After all, the club has "measured rate" service on their phone line so they get charged for each autopatch call. Your endeavor is to make so many patches in a year that you cost the club at least $20 in phone bills. That way you'll feel you got your money's worth for your dues!

Step Twenty Eight: Never say "My name is ....." It makes you sound human. If at all possible, use one of the following phrases: a) "The personal here is ..." b) "The handle here is..."

Step Twenty Nine: Use "73" and "88" incorrectly. Both are already considered plural, but add a "s" to the end anyway. Say "73's" or "88's". Who cares if it means "best regards" and "love and kisses." Better yet, say "seventy thirds"! (By the way, seventy thirds equals about 23.3).

Step Thirty: If the repeater is off the air for service, complain about the fact that it was off the air as soon as it's turned back on. Act as though your entire day has been ruined because the repeater wasn't available when you wanted to use it. Even thought you have never paid a penny to help out with the upkeep of it.

There IS a high probability of your being right, Brian.

Slipping to "Lennie" as an attempt at a last dig is a

Note also the FAILURE to document details. Robesin didn't state who I was allegedly impersonating...further reinforcing the "alternate personality" syndrome. All damning but nothing specific, typical Robesin posting.

I thought for a minute he done what they told kids in school to do when on fire. But in his case it isn't "Stop, Drop, and Roll" in Scheissman language it is "Stop, Drop, and Blow." He tried it once on that crappy sounding microphone he has on that 3rd rate radio he has. Except it ended up garbling his language because he got the mic stuck in his butt.

The facts are moron that you don't generally get retested unless you violate the rules. Of which you got busted doing that? Just can't face the facts, now can you momma's boy. Tell us why did Riley send you those letters and expected you to retest. If that was the case, he would have never bothered you in first place.

Again, you're not intellectually talented enough to pull of any sort of lie like that because everyone sees through you, Scheissman. One lie covers another lie for you, now doesn't it mommas boy? They do have the jurisdiction to test you again and as with all licensees. That is fact. However, they don't randomly come out and retest people for whatever they would like unless you don't seem to understand the rules.

Which you don't understand the rules against filth, jamming, or anything else. You are an embarassment to the amateur radio service and you always will be. Just like the pimply faced social pariah you are, you are a disgrace to the Amateur Radio Service. You provide nothing to the service and never have other than to be a user. Which would explain the actions toward your adopted mother.

Your record speaks for itself, not only on rec.radio.amateur.misc but elsewhere on the amateur bands. Interestingly, you were also cited for a personal dispute that you dragged onto the amateur bands with another licensee from your area. It seems that you can't understand the basis and purpose for amateur radio.

Which explains why you are not on the air very much, because too many people are waiting for you to committ another of your offenses so they can tape your stupidities and forward them to the FCC. You really should have your license revoked and with your past you finally find a way to screw up again in the future. Let the tape recorders roll.

Hey Stupid, errr I mean Scheissman. Did you know that I live three hundred miles from Todd. Did that occur to you? Or are you stupid?
That's right you do live in that crappy little WV town that no one has

Roger is about to finally have th final episode where he finally goes off the deep end. When they finally bring in the guys with white coats that will be the last you'll hear of him. I would say give it some time, but eventually he will finally achieve his ultimate fame in life.

No, it's called having the means and resources to do something because I don't have to kiss anyone's ass like you do. Must suck to be stuck at that dead end job you hold for the rest of your life. Mwahhahahahaha, Oh yes, and did you get your imaginary girlfriend to finally answer the door since you were allegedly hiding out at the store. Projecting your trailer trash tendencies onto others, huh Scheissman.
Isn't that a West Virginia staple that "If she's not good enough for all of us, she's not good enough for Bubba" Isn't that right Scheissman?
You're still traumatized from that inbreeding hick syndrome even at the age of 50. Or does it reinforce the fact that you're nothing more than a low class white trash hick with little in the way of social skills, education, common sense, or much of anything else. Not much to offer huh Scheissman. 50 and still single huh. Kind of understandable considering that you have limited skills, mental accuracy, or anything else that would make you a desirable person for employment much less a relationship.

Mwahahhahahah. One time I am Lloyd, the next Todd, next Mark, which one am I? None of the above? Mwhahahahahha, you're such a flamer Scheissman!! You couldn't beat your way out of a wet paper bag if you wanted to. That is after it was soaked for days.

Why didn't you show at the door when you were paid a visit at least twice. Once when two locals visited you and the other when one guy visited you? Did you scream mommy? Meanwhile you hid behind the lie that your girlfriend was there and you were away at the store, curtains boy.

Intellect is something totally foreign on you Scheissman. It is obvious that you've never accomplished any sort of secondary education despite your rhetoric . What is your career Schiessman? Doubtful that you would actually have the sincerity to actually tell the truth? Since you seem to have the nerve to question others occupations, it would be pertinent and acceptable to state your claim to fame. If you actually have one?
Doubtful that you even have the so-called degrees you claim or any sort of credentials that would certify you as an expert on any subject.

an imbecile in <8uqwg.8275$vO.7632@newsread4.news.pas.earthlink.net>:
"Right you are, wannabe Rhode's Scholar!"

Billy the illiterate retard Smith screws up again, and his illiteracy is exposed. "It serves him right."
in<hauKf.1410$S25.940@newsread1.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"Deserves him right."

Billy "retard" Smith confesses to his generally accepted retarded
status in <LwpLf.2321$F56.2317@newsread3.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"I'm a general retard. bwhahaha"

Billy "spelling champ of the general retards" Smith admits his bad hygiene but is still in denial about his English skills in <QxpLf.2322$F56.1169@newsread3.news.atl.earthlink.net>
"Sure I can spell and smell."

"Billy" the NOtwordSmith fucks up again with this incompete sentence in

"So when you got divorced boy, did your finally figure out that your more"

Billy "cumgargler" Smith managed to awaken from his drunken stupor to slobber
in <fbIOf.442$sL2.25@newsread2.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"Isn't that you mom weighed"

Mr."Education" Billy Smith steps on his own dick again when he talks about others' "educations" (or educatiion" as he spells it) in <w7IOf.436$sL2.167@newsread2.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"Uh, huh. Right LOSER. Still smoking that dope again? By the way how is your
so called educatiion actually doing for you? Those online classes."

<B9IOf.439$sL2.255@newsread2.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"You're whole life has been exhaled before."

Billy "illiterate retard" Smith spikes the "HUH?" factor in this slobbering in <MGqUf.16833$S25.8455@newsread1.news.atl.earthlink.net>:

"Come on, do it just have you some spiked Kool Aid."

"Didn't" your special-Ed teacher teach you how to spell, Billy?
in <OCqUf.16826$S25.10695@newsread1.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"...didnt Marie teach you to play nice"

"Rhodes scholar" Billy Lardass Davies Smith blunders and blows his cover again in <Et%0g.6340$sq5.1769@newsread2.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"Rhode's scholar Scheissman blows his cover again."

A favorite investigative tool used by the FCC involves getting hard copy admissions of rule violations from abusers prior to taking any formal action. It looks as though Todd may have been taken in by a sympathetic sounding poster on his blog who is going by the nick of "kirkw5."

It wouldn't surprise me at all if kirkw5 turns out to be conducting a preliminary investigation for the FCC or the DoJ. It's a lot less expensive than sending someone into the field.

A word of advice, Todd: If you're arrested, don't misinterpret the yellow floor signs in the jail which say "piso mojado." Woger did that when he went to the slammer, and the rest is ugly history.

that is the simplest and most logical inference it is is not the only answer He could have been refered to the proccess of just him defeacting on another man a kinky act (not my kink but I try not to be too judgemental of such things) in any event Robeson statesdescribes a Sex act involving himself and 2 Men one of them he claims is ME is sick lying and and down right gros in his efforts to disrupt the NG

canyou get it through your head I have xero interest in Morse Code

if you could give me the abilty to read it I would not use it since I am not interested in what it offers

I have psent a good part of youth on the mode and I will waste no more time on it

I don't feel that Ham is CW, the FCC and the ARRL agree it isn't for the type of contacts I could make with CW I can make much the same contact using JT 65 modes which I have made afew moon bounce contacts and in creasing number of terreail contact using MS based proagation and all without having to listen to static. If I listen to static I want to hear a person not a machine be it computer or code key

I will can and will listen for the off chance of hearing either SOS or OSO if I hear either I boot up my CW reading program and try to help out if it apreas I can read the signal and no one is responding. a very unlikely event I suspect.

aside from that nothing could get to to use that mode. ona personal level I DO despise it and hope to hear its demise (by the volontary disuse of the ARS the last bastition of CW use) I may not live that long, but I have hopes

BTW calling some one lazy is just not a good way to get to them to do something you want them to to do

Robesin trips himself up every other day revealing some new facet of indee dwith the CAP cadets I also wonder about the adult part of that, esp with his instance that Bis like me don't exist indeed It become a logical inference now (with logic he uses to insit my wife is male not female) to bwonder if the other man involved isn't amy after all he inist bis don't exist and by this statement then he woulda homosexaul and therfore must, by his logic be a male wether trans crosdresser or Maybe I spoke too soon. Should have let Tom Eddy go on for a few more days and reveal more of his Robesinisms.

"uncalled for..."

"childishly tawdry..."

"speaks volumes..."

"Lennie..."

The "childishly tawdry" part sounds like he just put down a harlequin romance starring Fabio. I can't wait for him to tell us that he's "livid." ;^)

I gues to make "human" in his eyes I would have to NOT point out is errors (or comet on his efforts to INVLE ME in his love life)

well Ladies and gents if Robeson is Good example of Human I don't want to be a human

If he is to be considered a good ham I don't want to be one of those either wd4nmq wrote a few months ago about getting the wrong size connector pins (female) when buying a "standard" 6 pin what is commonlly called a Molex plug for making up your own HF power cable. I just wonder why more people aren't screaming about this. I bought 3 plugs from two different dealers (don't remember who) at local hamfests about a year ago and ALL of them had too big female pins. After discovering the problem recently (cables already made, of course) I crudely bent in the pins so they would grab the male pins on the rigs. Wanting a better fix, last weekend at the Shelby, NC hamfest I bought a handfull of pins from Tower Electronics, not having seen the previous post. Well, they turned out to be even bigger.

The closest I can find in diameter is canabalizing an old PC hard disk power connector and they're still a tad big measuring roughly .080-.085 - this is consistent with wd4nmq's measurement of the real pins on a HF rig of .075 (from memory). The PC pins are also too low current.

Anyone find a source for pins? or whole connectors? Anyone else having problems with oversize pins (like arcing or melting the connector or your rig?) Maybe there's enough misalignment of the pins to cause some contact but I don't trust them.

That's terrible Spanish. Bablefish must have produced that rot. A babelfish translation back to "English" comes up with:

"Still somebody confuses him in the thought gives a curse what you fix.
Now the clock goes whereas its shell of the wife of puta overlaps the dog of the family. You are asshole, Davey."

Bwa HAHAHAHAHAHA!!!!

He should have cited http://www.familywatchdog.us instead, because that's where you can do a nationwide search. For example, I found a Baltimore Wiseman that way, as well as some Utah and Florida Morgans.

Do you ever visit your cousin in Baltimore? He looks lonely.

No, it doesn't.

It concerns me stating that, unlike you, I will never know that experience.

> slwo code understands even less than steve

Morkie, I will conceed that you know two things that I will never know...What it's like to lick my excrement off of another man's genitals, and the going welfare rates in Michigan.

It's not Markies fault. The towns people thought his place was the local landfill and they have been dumping their trash on his property for three straight years now. Mark enjoys it because he doesn't have to go dumpster diving anymore and he can spend more time on the internet pissing people off.

I agree with you Watchman.

I wish the Dr Death and his friends would stop trolling RRAP. Now they got the k00ks trolling too. It's seems to get worse when 11 meters is dead and they need somewhere else to cause hate and discontent, so they show up in RRAP and tease Markie. They tease him because Markie is a CB'er gifted with a ham license, and since they're not smart enough to earn one they troll the group. Sad.

You can ignore Markies request for information on how it works on the ham bands, Markie is to Lazy to ever get HF priviledges.

Would the two of you PLEASE consider getting on 14.313 live some weekend morning or afternoon? The good ole boys freq. JUST AIN'T THE SAME since Dumbass Donnie signed off of ham radio for good some Months ago and the "Kind Jewish Indian" finally left the "GOMER Club" (see below) and finally made it to a comfy room in the Alzheimer's Ward of the local rest home.

I am VERY sure that the both of you and your RRAP/RRAM/RRSW entorage would be a welcome act on the 14.313 stage, where you can all join the ranks of past RF Clowns like FZ, MUJ PZT, OTK,OKA, NX-Tango and many other now enshrined in the FCC Hall of Fame.

WHY NOT CONSIDER IT BOYS?
YOU'D BE THE TOP LIVE COMEDY SHOW ON ALL OF HAM RADIO!

Terms you may want to remember:

GOMER - "Get Out of My Emergency Room!. An acronym used by the medical workers who frequent AT to refer to people (usually old) who are on the verge of an inevitable death and who cling to life by making entirely too much fruitless use of the services of the medical professions.

Fap - Onomatopoeia for masturbation. Most often used in the context of masturbating over someone else's misfortune.
Potential SRs (XYL's) can also be described as "fap-worthy".

Grogan - Turd.

Pinch a loaf - To use the anal sphincter to break an overly long Grogan in two as it emerges, thus causing the lower half to fall off into the bowl.

Peckerwood - An inversion of woodpecker, is also used but usually only with negative connotations. It was coined in the 19th century by Southern blacks to describe poor whites. They considered them loud and troublesome like the bird, often with red hair like the woodpecker's head plumes. This word is still widely used by Southern blacks to refer to Southern whites.

Several probelms there, fatboy.

First of all Morkie's not licensed to go there. He's already got enough law looking over his shoulder I doubt he'd risk going bootleg on frequencies he's not licensed for and add a federal violation to the pile.

Secondly, I wouldn't want him there...The notorious reputation of the frequency notwithstanding, I don't want him on 11 meters, let alone an Amateur allocation, trash-talking frequencies aside.

Lastly, there would be some expectation of Morkie acting at least marginally adult-like, and to tell you the truth, I like my odds on the Power Ball and Mega Millions a lot better.

So sit back, engage your kill filter, and have a nice day.

Or don't...I don't care.

How about a USA version of the Canadian solution:

1) No change to license classes.

2) Tech requires Element 2 (Tech written) same as now.

3) General requires a Tech license plus Elements 1 and 3 (5 wpm code, General written). If Element 3 is passed with 85% or better correct, credit is given for Element 1.

4) Extra requires a General or Advanced plus Element 4 (Extra written).

No new tests. No extra paperwork other than the VEs determining whether someone passed Element 3 with 74% or 85%. No reduction in requirements, just an alternate path.

Why not?

That faked website doesn't say if you passed the General test or not,
Markie. You lying child raper.

You'll never pass the test anyway, Markie. You are too lazy to study and lack the brains to even memorize the answers. That's why you are waiting for them to just give it to you.

As usual you have your "facts" confused. Wiseman (a ham) brought AUK here.
Mark is a ham with a long RRAP record. Since you, Slow Code, have been trolling not only Mark, but other CBers on this group, I will have to assume you have no license either.

AMERICA IN DANGER of its own out-of-control Bio-Terror:
Is 1984 here? Or cripping... God help us, blinded!
Originally Secret Bio-Aerosols are misused to HARM and Torture in U.S.A.

Our government needs TORTURE in U.S.? See details below...
It has your VOTE, support? Abused...

CRITICS (political/social/cultural) are harassed and secretly persecuted along with their KIDS in schools/colleges, especially, during tests/exams (Think: Guantanamo "stress-positions" in the context of 1984-technologies)

Bio-Aerosols and aerosolized chemicals are used to cause:
- severe colds/coughs turning into bronchitis, eye irritation
- bacterial pneumonia/other pneumonia, shortness of breath
- surges of severe headaches, migraines, dizziness, etc.
- fainting collapses by symptoms-mimicking aerosols
- severe stomach pains (sharp, burning, nausea, etc)
- chest-wall pains, heart-muscle inflammations/trauma, etc.
WORSE:
- heart attacks under cover of second-hand smocking
- car crashes/accidents by Vertigo-causing aerosols
- liver/organ failure by small-dose toxins (trace-less?)
- cancer-causing/facilitating - months-long assasinations
This "Yushchenko syndrom" CAN destabilize NATIONs Waste, Fraud, Cronism and Abuse in HomeSec/FBI Fabrication of Believable Info/Manufacturing of accidents

U.S. mail IS polluted in "anthrax-like" manner to HARM critics Libraries, airplanes, hotels, offices, buses, trains - all polluted!

A network of Secret Gas-Aerosol Rooms operated in US
(in Philadelphia, Narberth, Lower Merion, PA)
(in Wilmington and Newark, DE)
(in Hampton, Williamsburg and Richmond, VA)
AND ELSEWHERE.... details below...
Bio-aerosols used to hurt and simulate panic attacks, etc.!
Soviets locked critics into nut-houses, now WE do the same!
Symptoms-mimicking aerosols do HARM, weak or ill people.

Say "Stop, I care" - call Senate (202) 224-3121
House of Representatives (202) 225-3121
What IS going on in America? Print and Post
Manufacturing of FEAR to grab more Power and Money, of course.

Big Brother spins protection...
And fear is used to clamp.
Democracy needs action!

Looked at this?!! Go to Google/Yahoo newsGroups:

This was a new on-line ad placed in Philadelphia Inquirer and Philadelphia Daily News on www.philly.com (see full text below)
It was about the secret aerosols rooms in US. One could find it by searching "secret", say, in the ad section of philly.com.

Democracy can not function effectively without the informed public. As a former NASA Langley scientist working in the area of nanotechnology and nanoscale particles, I have been recently exposed to the establishment of secret gas-aerosol rooms inside of United States, at least in the Mid-Atlantic region (from Philadelphia to Virginia).
First, the highly irritant aerosols have surfaced at the NASA Langley Research Center in several safety accidents. Investigations were blocked, probably, because of lack of Congressional approval for such financially-lucrative research at NASA. Later, these aerosols had been encountered outside of NASA in Virginia, Delaware and Pennsylvania
This points out to yet another proliferation of originally-sensitive technologies into domestic American life to hurt and harass people without a proper oversight and much control. This amounts to torture, extra-judicial prosecution and authoritarian intimidation tactics. The use of such irritants and the operations of the secret gas-aerosol rooms are gross violations of human and constitutional rights of American citizens and various domestic and international laws.

----------Full text of an ad from Philadelphia's philly.com---------- TORTURE IN USA: Secret Aerosol Rooms
US Scientist needs legal help dealing with the secret aerosols rooms (SARs) operated illegally in Philadelphia area, Newark (DE), Hampton and Williamsburg (VA). Highly volatile aerosols with and without bacterial content cause dry cough, airways and eyes irritation, chest pain and inflammation. FBI and Homeland Security associates are likely operators of SARs, while collaborators may be hotel staff and landlords, who get financial/material or other incentives. US citizens and kids are victims.

Torture is any act by which severe pain, whether physical or psychological, is intentionally inflicted on a person as a means of intimidation, deterrence, revenge, punishment, sadism, or information gathering. At times, medicine and medical practitioners have been drawn into the ranks of torturers, either to judge what victims can endure, to apply treatments which will enhance torture, or as torturers in their own right. http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Torture

America in Danger!

America in danger -
The vice is NOT impeached.
America in danger -
The public trust is breached.

Big Brother spins protection
And fear is used to clamp.
Democracy needs action!
On which side do you stand?

Which side are you on, boys?
Which side moves you on?
Which side are you on, girls?
Which side did you wrong?
(Chorus after F. Reece)

Your church is burned by haters.
The priests to go to jail?
Your dreams are cheyned by traitors,
But hope still shines through veil.

Dust rooms came back to gas us
With neo-Naz (or Con) embrace...
New immigrants do make US!
And not the SSuper-race...

The Government of Torture

Our government needs TORTURE?!
It has your VOTE, and, now, support?
But peace (not vice) needs steady nurture
And trustful words of calm rapport.

Beware of loud, but FALSE, ideas
That flame a thirsty hellish torch.

Protect the old and true ideals
And Constitution's civic urge.

Yes, torture IS a hellish torch -
In bloody hands, a blinded sword,
With Constitution used to forge
All laws on rights as mere absurd!

Remember victim's silent cry
And SEE the Christ in all of us.
Don't let your government to spy
And torture with some bio-dust.

There is NO good use for evil torture!
No matter how the need is spinned
By Nixon's men, as bloody sergeants,
While truth is painfully re-skinned.

Funny I have passed both the gneral and extra wiriten tests and not waiting for anything that the FCC has n't promised that being the end of Code testing

I also remember those fine days and have about 1 hour of recordings from that by-gone era that I would be willing to burn on a cd. It has everything from W4NTI going nuts to NR5T, FZ, and a bit where someone tells "brother John" how much he loves God. It will bring tears to Low Power Shortwave station Omega One Radio is still going strong on 13.556.00 MHz in the the 22 meter shortwave band, Despite "complaints" on the newsgroup about the station. The station began in July of this year with a output of 5 watts and then increase it to 10 watts followed by 25 watts, then 50 watts and now is running with a power output of 100 watts. The station has been heard mostly out east, yet some people out in the western part of the United States claim that they too are also hearing this little station. The station runs 24 hours a day, 7 days a week and will continue to grow and improve itself and be the best it can be!!

If you were really modern, you'd be doing podcasts over the Internet, would reach the whole world and, best of all, would be legal. Short wave is dying. Most of the big SW stations are going off the air.

You should take a page out of Lloyd's book. You should use modern technology like a TRS-80 and an electret microphone.

I don't think so, The FCC wouldn't want this to go the federal courts, they have to explain themselves, which they (the FCC) don't want to do. They will have to explain why they lied all these years about the Waivering process and why a person who applied seven times for a license didn't get a license and why the FCC didn't even take the time of day to consider that persons waiver (the Federal courts has told the FCC repeatively that "THEY MUST CONSIDER WAIVERS". I also know people in the House Subcommittee on Telecommunications (the FCC boss) who are asking the same question. You see this isn't like K1MAN, there is a lot more too it then what you know.....and the FCC doesn't want to have to go the courts to explain themselves.

True, TRS-80s are a little classier than a Mac, but serious technophiles should try to get hold of one. I hear that you can purchase them used, so maybe that would be a viable option for you.

Once you have experienced the awesome power of a screaming, 4.77 MHz Z80 processor, you will never go back. TRS-80s rule, Dude.

HAW! That's a good one, Cecil!

Glad to see you've finally seen the light ;-)

Seriously, though - the Canadian solution might be the way to consensus.

I suggested something similar many years ago - that the Morse code exam be folded into the written exam and one score obtained.
I think I suggested that the Morse code exam be 20% of the score.
Others wanted the Morse code exam to be 80% of the score.

BUZZZZZZZZ! Wrong answer! We were looking for "1.77" Mhz.

The Model 1 was 1.77 Mhz, the Model 2 was 4 Mhz, the Model 3 was 2 Mhz, the Model 4 was 4 Mhz.

But thanks for playing!

everything from W4NTI going nuts to NR5T, FZ, and a bit where someone

No, Robeson does not believe Roger. Never has so far as I know. He, like the rest of us, knows Roger for what he is. Robeson dislikes Wiseman as much as you.
You seem to be as fixated on Robeson as Roger is on Lloyd. Yes, you can decide what is in your best interest, but bear in mind that you are beginning to sound not unlike Wiseman insofar as your constant commentary concerning Robeson is concerned. Want some friendly advice? You would be well advised to show a bit of maturity and "tone it down" a notch or two and step back from the fray. When one wrestles in the mud with pigs, one soon

Here are Toad's own words from rec.radio.amateur.misc, posted 9/2/06:

"Not according to people who had accually heard the station. I have a number of people locally and as far away as Maryland, New York, and other locations that heard the station and has email me and written me and says ti's doing just fine. the stations far away say there is no signal but the audio is really good."

If there is no signal how can they hear it? Toad has yet to explain that one.

By the way, Markie, what makes you think this is my first appearance?

It's not at all unusual, especially with SSB signals, to have a signal so low it doesn't register on an S meter, and yet be perfectly clean and

..odd, that. For weeks you have been accusing Robeson of being a liar. Why but as I see it I fix on those that are attacking me, be it Robeson or wismen or someone else

But as "you see it" counts for little. You initiated much of this trash with your stupidly insipid "get help" trolls. You were set after because you were, quite simply, stupid. When others called your attention to the fact you whined that you were being "attacked".

It is about YOU, like it or not.

or rather I'd ;like friendly advice not someelse telling me to violate

I do I don't for example fabricate lies to attack my foes

You continue to accuse Robeson of making posts he did not make. That makes you a liar. And the fact that you were once caught red-handed forging a post over Robeson's name lends no credibility to yourself.
That and your fifteen plus sock-puppets is proof enough that you are almost, not quite, but almost as warped as Wiseman.

Foes? You'd have no foes, Mark, were you to learn when to butt out and use your computer to play Pac Man.
Facts are facts, Mark. The percieved "attacks" you feel are aimed toward you are brought on by your own, oft enwelcomed comments to Usenet posters. You brought this upon yourself. Simple as that.

5226. What Is Ham Radio?.....The FAQ

Newsgroup: rec.radio.amateur.misc
Date: 2006-09-09 14:47:42 UTC
From: "If M3 is the answer, it's a silly question!" <me@privacy.net>

A necessary preface.....

(It is becoming increasingly difficult to fly the flag for decency and for civilised behaviour in Radio Hammery. Even the Usenet newsgroups dedicated to the cause have degenerated into a hotbed of abusive onslaughts by those who ought to know better; the Nugatory Numpties who boast of an interest exceeding 10, 20, 30, 40 or even 50 years and yet who have proved themselves incapable of even meeting the trivial exam standards set for 6-year-olds. However, there still exists the fundamental basis on which Ham Radio is based, and that will never die. This FAQ ("What Is Ham Radio?") will be regularly published and will not be shouted or bullied down. It is important that those of a technical bent, who are the natural seed-corn of Radio Hammery and who gravitate towards us to be the real novitiate, can still find us, (and know that we are still here), their fellows.)

-----ooooo-----

So,.....What is Ham Radio?

Ham Radio is a technical pursuit for those who are interested in the science of radio wave propagation and who are also interested in the way that their radios function. It has a long-standing tradition of providing a source of engineers who are born naturals.

Ham Radio awakens in its aficionados a whole-life fascination with all things technical and gives an all-abiding curiosity to improve one's scientific knowledge. It's a great swimming pool, please dive in!

This excitement causes a wish to share the experience with ones fellow man, and shows itself in the gentlemanly traditions of Ham Radio.

Radio Hams are in a unique privileged position in that they can construct and operate their own equipment! No-one else has this privilege. Users, such as broadcasters, the po lice and armed farces, CBers and mobile phone users have to purchase ready-made gear. Manufacturers are not licensed to operate their gear. Radio Hams are qualified to design, build and then operate their own pieces of equipment. They do this with gusto, and also repair and modify their own equipment. This is a privilege well worth the effort to gain, and one to be jealously guarded.

The excitement that drives a Radio Ham starts with relatively simple technologies at first, perhaps making his own Wimshurst machine and primary cells. Small pieces of test equipment follow, possibly multimeters and signal generators. Then comes receivers and transmitters. It is with the latter that communication with like-minded technically motivated people takes off. The scope for technical development grows with the years and now encompasses DSP and DDS. There is also a great deal of excitement in the areas of computer programming to be learnt and applied.

The technical excitement motivates Radio Hams to compete with each other to determine who has designed and manufactured the best-quality station. This competitiveness is found in DXing, competitions and fox-hunts.

-----OOOOO----

However, beware! A Ham Radio licence is such a desirable thing to have that there are large numbers of people who wish to be thought of as Radio Hams when, in fact, they are nothing of the kind! Usually such people are a variation of the CB Radio hobbyist; they buy their radios off the shelf and send them back to be repaired; they are not interested in technical discussion and sneer at those who are; they have no idea how their radios work inside and have no wish to find out;
they are free with rather silly personal insults.

-----ooooo-----

One infallible way to disambiguate the CB Radio Hobbyist from the _REAL_ Radio Ham is to solicit their view of the difference between CB Radio and Ham Radio. A Radio Ham will perceive Ham Radio to be a technical pursuit and will perceive CB Radio to be a social communications facility no different in essence to a land-line telephone or a GSM mobile in the hands of a 6-year-old. Thus a Radio Ham could also hold a CB licence safe in the knowledge that such a licence says no more about him than having a land-line telephone, whilst continuing to regard Ham Radio as a separate technical pursuit.

A CB Radio hobbyist, on the other hand, sees no difference between a Ham Radio licence and a CB Radio licence. To him, they are sisters-under-the-skin. Wrongly, the CB Radio Hobbyist then tries to classify himself as the equal of the Radio Ham when, in fact, he is nothing of the kind.

Ham Radio is not CB Radio and has no common ground with it! Ham Radio is _THE_ technical pursuit for gentlemen; CB Radio is the operating hobby for those who buy their rigs and equipment off the shelf.

-----ooooo-----

If you are the sort of person who is motivated by a technical interest in how things work; if you took apart malfunctioning clocks, toasters and the like and put them right despite never having seen them working, then a Ham Radio licence is your traditional route! There has never been a shortage of such people, and those who gravitate towards such an interest have always been welcomed into our shacks and their interests fostered. There is not today, nor has there ever been, a need to go out and encourage and press children, children who have never expressed an interest in Ham Radio, to come into our shacks. Such an activity should cause eyebrows to be raised - what normal well-adjusted adults seek the social acquaintance of children?!

-----ooooo-----

Please remember that this FAQ is a _POSITIVE EXHORTATION_ to you to exert yourselves to join our fraternity!

UPI; ATHENS, ALABAMA:

Last night, as most of us slept, local police conducted a massive sting operation targeted at the city's prostitutes. Several officers from the Athens Police Department watched and waited as prostitutes walked up and down the streets of downtown, leaning in car after car, only to be arrested after driving away in the car and a transaction had clearly been made. The head of the Athens Task Force reported at least 12 arrests of prostitutes and several dozen potential customers. Nobody was hurt in the operation.

However, back at the station, Police were surprised to find in one case that they had arrested a transvestite prostitute. Police identified Lloyd Austin Davies as a known transvestite in the Athens area, but failed to identify the sicko during the arrest. It wasn't until hours later when Davies stood up in the holding tank and urinated through the bars when police were able to identify the Davies as a transvestite.

After posting bail, Davies, a respected member of the gay community, is now registered as a known sex offender in Athens. When asked by reporters if Davies' customers were ever surprised, he replied, "My customers are mostly breast men."
Davies then squeezed his man-boobs through his filthy tee shirt.

Wheeling, WV. (AP)

In what has been described as a case for the record books, doctors at Wheeling Hospital surgically removed a missing Alabama man from the rectum of a well-known local wacko this past weekend.

Dave Heil an obnoxious local eccentric presented himself to the hospital emergency room on Saturday, complaining of abdominal discomfort and extreme constipation. After performing a CAT scan, physicians were flabbergasted when the images showed a full-grown 250 lb adult male lodged completely within Heil's lower colon.

Heil revealed that the intestinal blockage was none other than Lloyd Davies, reported as missing from Athens, Alabama last week after failing to show up for work at Papa John's Pizza.

Mr. Heil, who formerly was an flunky State Dept. employee to a third world country and married to a finnish call girl, had a long term relationship with Davies who is a known homosexual.

He revealed that Mr. Davies, who has been a long-time friend and lover of Heil, made a special trip to Cameron, West Virginia to cheer up his mentor by engaging in a protracted session of ass-kissing.

According to Heil, the analingus got somewhat out of hand. Mr. Davies apparently performed his duties with such enthusiasm that he was sucked bodily into Heil's lower intestinal tract by the involuntary muscular contractions associated with orgasm.

Neither Davies nor Heil appear to have suffered any permanent injury from this unusual incident. Doctors successfully removed Davies using copious quantities of canola oil, and with the assistance of plumbers from a local septic tank cleaning service.

Davies, who explained that he is quite used to eating excrement, evidently found more than enough nourishment to survive his 3-day stint in Heil's rectal cavity.

After a thorough hosing-off, Davies was put on an Greyhound bus back to Athens, Alabama.

They don't have to explain anything, you'll be the one to have to explain to them that you're sorry for the pirating with excessive power levels and that you promise never to do it again.

I can hear Todd's 13.556 pirate station nearly fifteen hours a day, and I can tell you all the titles of the songs he plays and all the names of the shitty bands that are singing them.

It's going to be hilarious when they slap the fine on his ass, and then he normally comes back here and starts attacking people over it. ROFL, I

The Cordell Press, Inc.
presents
Memoir of a Radio God
By Glenn A. Baxter, P.E.., K1MAN

Chapter 1
A "Star" is Born?
or Aren't We All "Stars?"
or
The Happiest Day of My Life

It was the happiest day of my life. It was also the scariest. I remember the day well.* I had won the "lottery." I became a brand new human baby. It was 5:42 A.M. on March 9, 1942. I was eager to get this new show on the road. I was all tangled up in the darn umbilical cord, but that didn't seem to bother me at all. I couldn't breath when I came out of my groggy mom. That DID bother me! I was blue. I was ugly. My ears were flapped over. The doctor struggled and got me untangled. They hustled my mother away as they frantically struggled to save my precious little life. All life is precious! It was touch and go for quite a while.

Meanwhile my Mom, Marion Watson Baxter, from Swan Quarter, North Carolina, was hustled out of the delivery room at St. Agnes Hospital in White Plains, New York.

"Where is my son," she demanded in her 'drunken' stooper?

She had been drugged pretty hard to make my arrival and complications as painless as possible.

"Oh, we are cleaning him up," a nurse replied.

My mom was a Registered Nurse (with almost no time yet as a practicing nurse).

"Oh don't be ridiculous" she slurred through the pain killing drugs!"

Back in the delivery room, I seemed to be OK. No brain damage, I speculate, just a few loose screws, as anyone who knows me will agree.

"Boy, that was close!" I thought as I cried up a storm.

Finally, after what seemed forever, the Irish nurse brought me in to see my mom. My mother acted as though she had just had a couple of Manhattans. What did I know?

When she first held me tenderly (I liked that) she cried and said:

"How will I ever learn to love him? He is so ugly!"

Now THAT is ugly! I thought:

"Hey mom, you ain't seen 'nothin' yet! I will nestle into your heart and be a joy unto your life! And a pain in the you know where! I 'got' plans!"

Mom fed me and then it was time to go out with the rest of the kids in that awful room. What a noise they all made.

"What a bunch of babies," I thought!

Then my dad came to the window. Another Irish nurse picked me up. She pointed to me, and then to him, and mouthed:

"He looks just like you!"

My dad grinned and gave her the "monkey sign." You know, he thumbed his nose. She was quite indignant and stamped her foot.

"Hey, I like this spunky lady," I thought, "Already I have people sticking up for me. And that guy, my dad, great sense of humor! Look at him. Dirty old man (he was 50)! He loves me already! I think I am going to like it around here!"

My dad died when I was 16. He was making love to my mom. He had just served her breakfast in bed, as was his usual routine. He had just told her that she had been the best wife he could possibly have. He said he didn't think he would ever get any closer to heaven than he was at that moment. It was a beautiful morning (August 31, 1958), only ten feet from the water on Great Pond in Belgrade Lakes, Maine. I was in the next room, sound asleep. My older sister Carol was in her bedroom sound asleep. My oldest sister Betty and her husband, George Sternad, and their kids, Shelley and Kenny, were in the Guest House, all sound asleep.

I was awakened when I heard George on the phone out in the living room:

"Hello Dr. Adams? This is George Sternad. Mr. Baxter died about fifteen minutes ago."

Remember the scene in the movie Dr. Chivago when Yuri watches as they start to throw dirt on his mother's coffin? That is exactly how I felt. KaBam! I slipped out the lake front screen door of my room and went out to the shop, a separate building. I needed to think. I needed to be alone for a few minutes. George came into the shop and put his hand on my shoulder. He said:

"You are the man of the family now." I Started to cry.

My mom was a basket case. Dr. Adams and his wife Frieda came over. They were neighbors. I had palled around with their Tom boy daughter Nancy and her best friend Ann (who I was in love with) for years. I thought the Adams' showing up like that was pretty classy. They all came over for dinner later that evening. My sister was to be off to Northwestern as a freshman, and I was to be off to Vermont Academy as a Junior. Things had settled down a bit as we all faced our lives ahead without Frank H. Baxter. He was a good man, a good father, a good husband, and he was my best friend. He pushed me fairly hard. I pushed back somewhat. I knew what was good for me, though. I needed to be pushed; I believe all kids need to be pushed. Carol, my older sister feels this was cruel. Not so! My dad gave us both plenty of "wiggle room," however. When he died, my mom became my best friend. When she died, my wife Bonnie became my best friend.

He took the whole summer off, starting when I was 9, and we worked on projects together. I would run around and get tools for him, and we had a ball. He loved me, and I loved him.

My first year at Vermont Academy started out as a disaster. I was an academic derelict. I was a scholastic "street person." I began to come alive the Spring of my freshman year, however. If I made honors in my sophomore year, my dad agreed to buy me a new $695 Collins 75A-4 amateur radio receiver. That was the Rolls Royce of radios, and in 1958, $695 was a lot of money. I missed honors, but not by all that much.

Was I spoiled? Yes. Was I lucky? Yes! Am I dysfunctional? Yes! One time I went to a shrink. He, then, had to go to a shrink. I was sent BOTH bills! Life can be so unfair! Am I crazy? No!

Ask any one of my teachers. They will tell you! Ask any one of my employers. Ask my angel and loving wife Bonnie. Ask Walter Cronkite, the most trusted American. He knows me well. They will all tell you the same thing. Glenn Baxter is a piece of work. I suspect that all of us are a piece of work, only I freely admit it! I have some great friends and some bitter (and very powerful) enemies. I am trying to love my enemies. I hereby forgive them all for any nasty things they may have done. I wish to be forgiven for the nasty things I have done. I am truly sorry.

Every human being (even dogs and cats) are products of their genes and their environments. Being loved and wanted makes a big difference. All things make a big difference.

For example. My dad feels romantic on 9 June 1941 (nine months before I was born). Pearl Harbor has not happened yet. My mom is agreeable to some romance. Maybe it was her idea. No, it probably WAS her idea. OK. All set to go. Glenn Baxter, K1MAN, is about to get his big chance. BUT! The phone rings. Wrong number. Glenn Baxter doesn't happen. K1MAN get assigned to someone else! His brother or sister get to be the next and last child in the Frank and Marion Baxter family, not even a ham!. Chance. Roll of the dice. Dr. Albert Einstein (my middle name is Albert, after Dr. Einstein) says that God doesn't play with dice. I disagree. One wrong number, and I would not be here. 14.275, 3.890, and 3.975 would be the same old stuff on amateur radio. No "illegal"(1) broadcasting, etc., etc.

Think about yourself. Suppose it was the sperm right next to you and not your sperm. Would it be YOU here reading this? No. At best, it would be your sister or brother. You would not exist. You would never exist. You had one chance and only one chance AND you made it.

Think about it like this. 111,000 thousand fans in Michigan stadium, "The Big House." One thin dime dropped out of a plane at 40,000 feet lands in the stadium the night before the big game. Who finds the dime? It was you, lucky you!

Whenever I see a new baby at the super market or somewhere else, I usually lean down and say:

"Well, how do you like life so far?

The mom usually says something like:

"Well he (or she) likes it just fine!"

Life is really precious, from the smallest spider (or even smaller) to the largest whale.

The bible says

"I call heaven and earth to witness against you this day that I have given you a choice; life or death. The blessing or the curse. Therefore choose life, so thou mayest LIVE, thou and thy seed."

I chose life. It was scary. It still is scary.

Choosing life, without hesitation, I decided that it was time to get on with it. I was on my way to becoming a "star," at least for a few brief moments. Every dog has his day, and I was destined to have mine.

"Now, how do I try and charm Carol, my youngest sister? My oldest sister is away at college; she will be putty in my tiny hands. But Carol? She might not like having competition over there at 31 Claremont Road, Scarsdale, New York. I think I will just play 'dumb' and try the good old 'just be a happy baby' approach. That might, just might, work."

Every day is the happiest day of my life.

* Actually I don't remember anything at all. This account is how I know I would have been thinking and assuming I could think at all at that time. My brain cells were all there, and some of the standard "programming" was working quite well, but it was like a new house with all the wiring in place but no "connections" made yet. The lights were on, but nobody was home, so to speak. I do know that I was loved.

 Actually, I didn't have a clue what I was doing. I was on "auto pilot" and was just going along with the flow. But I was loved, and you could take that to the bank.

(1) There are many Radio Amateurs in the United States and abroad who are of the totally wrong opinion that my daily call-in Amateur Radio Talk program, heard world wide on the short wave frequencies of 3.890 MHz., 3.975 MHz., and 14.275 MHz., 365 days per year since 1987, through July 4, 2005 was "illegal." It was the only short wave radio program of its kind and has never been attempted before or again by anyone.

Cindy &Chavez
Venezuela Dictator Vows To Bring Down U.S. Government

Venezuela government is sole owner of Citgo gasoline company

Venezuela Dictator Hugo Chavez has vowed to bring down the U.S. government. Chavez, president of Venezuela, told a TV audience: "Enough of imperialist aggression; we must tell the world: down with the U.S. empire. We have to bury imperialism this century."

The guest on his television program, beamed across Venezuela, was Cindy Sheehan, the antiwar activist. Chavez recently had as his guest Harry Belafonte, who called President Bush "the greatest terrorist in the world."

Chavez is pushing a socialist revolution and has a close alliance with Cuban dictator Fidel Castro.

Regardless of your feelings about the war in Iraq, the issue here is that we have a socialist dictator vowing to bring down the government of the U.S. And he is using our money to achieve his goal!

The Venezuela government, run by dictator Chavez, is the sole owner of Citgo gas company Sales of products at Citgo stations send money back to Chavez to help him in his vow to bring down our government.

Take Action

Please decide that you will not be shopping at a Citgo station. Why should U.S. citizens who love freedom be financing a dictator who has vowed to take down our government?

Very important. Please forward this to your friends and family. Most of them don't know that Citgo is owned by the Venezuela government.

YOU CAN VERIFY THIS ON THE CITGO WEB PAGE.

I'll bet his weekend was shifted to include 9/11 in place of Saturday, just in case some of his fellow work / release inmates might cause trouble tomorrow.

4X4/4X70/4Z70, ISRAEL (Special Event). Members of the Israel Amateur Radio Club (I.A.R.C) are hosting a special event museum station honoring 70 years of radio in Israel. The special event station, 4X4IRS, is located in the Holon Gallery of Design & Arts which presents a wide collection of old radios (broadcast), along with a modern FM local radio station. The activity started on August 15th, but will run until September 30th. Most of the operations have been on 20 meters CW, SSB and RTTY. QSL via 4X6ZK.

ADDED NOTE: Also, look for the I.A.R.C to activate 4X70R and 4Z70R to commemorate 70 years of Israeli broadcast ("Kol Israel"-Voice of Israel). The activity will last 2 weeks during mid October 2006 (1600z, October 7th to 2400z, October 21st). Activity will be on 160-10 meters including the WARC bands, CW, SSB and digital modes. QSL via 4Z4TL.

5H, TANZANIA. By the time you read this, John, K1JD, will be on an African Safari in Arusha, through September 19th. He hopes to be active as 5H2JD in his spare time. Activity will be limited to mostly his late afternoons around 14025, 10120 and 7025 kHz. QSL via his home callsign.

9H, MALTA (IOTA/Lighthouse Op). Jo, DL5AUA, will be active as 9H3JC from the Island of Gozo (EU-023), October 23rd to November 2nd. This will be a vacation. Activity will be on all bands and on CW/SSB using 100w and wire antennas. Operations will be close to the Lighthouse-Street of Ghasri (Giordan Lighthouse, ARLHS MLT 003). QSL via DL5AUA.

9M0, SPRATLY ISLANDS. Members of the Malaysian Amateur Radio Transmitter's Society (MARTS) are going to Layang Layang Island betweem March 9-20th (2007). They plan to be active on all bands and modes, with 2-4 stations active 24 hours a day. A total of 20 operators will be there. Operators mentioned are Phoa/9M2KT, Chow/9M2CF, Tex/9M2TO and some JA operators. More info will be forthcoming.

C6, BAHAMAS. Art, N3DXX, will be active (callsign not provided) during the CQWW DX CW Contest (November 25-26th) as Single-Op/All-Band entry. QSL via KN5H.

C9, MOZAMBIQUE (IOTA Op). Marq, CT1BWW, will be active as C91BWW from Maputo, between October 3-7th. He is expected to fly to Bazaruto Island (AF-072, WLOTA LH-0816), in the Inhambane Province, for a one week vacation as C98BWW between October 7-14th. Marq will be using a TS-480SAT, Spiderbeam (5 bands) and a Force12 vertical XK40. QSL via his home callsign. More information can be found at: http://www.geocities.com/c98bww/

E5, SOUTH COOK ISLANDS. Ken, ZL4HU, is now active as E51KH from Rarotonga (OC-013) until September 22nd. Activity will be mainly 20 meters SSB. He was heard this past week on 14201 kHz after 0630z. Ken stated he was using only 60 watts into a dipole.

FO, FRENCH POLYNESIA (IOTA Op). Pierre, F5JFU, wil be active as FO/F5JFU from the French Polynesia between October 21st and November 19th. He plans to visit three IOTA islands while there: Tahiti (IOTA: OC-042, DIFO FO-002), Moorea (IOTA OC-046, DIFO FO-010) and Bora-Bora (IOTA OC-067, DIFO FO-003). Planned activity will be on 20/15/10 meters (possibly 40m) with 100w into a vertical and wires, on CW/SSB and maybe RTTY. Pierre will pay special attention to Europe and French station needs. This will be a holiday style DXpedition (tourism oriented), so don't expect too much activity during his daytime hours. QSL via his home callsign, either by the Ref-Union Bureau or direct (w/SASE + IRC) to F5JFU at: Pierre Desseneux, Le Bourg, 58140 ST. Martin du Puy, FRANCE.

IOTA NEWS.....
EU-008. Members of the Workington and District Amateur Radio & IT Group (MX0WRC) will be active as MS0WRC/P from the Edinbane Cottages, Isle Of Skye (IOSA NH-07, SCOTIA CN-14, WW Loc. IO67SL, WAB NG35), Inner Hebrides), between September 30th and October 7th. Operators mentioned are Steve/G0MTD, Mark/2E0MAX, Brian/G0OMB and Paul/M1PAF. Activity will be mainly on the HF bands, 80-10 meters CW, SSB and digital modes. QSL via G0MTD, by the RSGB Bureau or direct to: Stephen Topping, 7 Beckstone Close, Harrington, Workington, Cumbria CA14 5QR, England - U.K.

EU-048. Chris, F8EUK, will be active as F8EUK/p from Houat Island (AT-016 for the French Islands Award) sometime between September 10-17th. He is on holiday, and radio will be at the bottom of his list. He states, "The beginning and the end of activation are not sure; listen for me between these two dates on 30m, 20m, 17m and 15m essentialy on CW. May be a little SSB on 20m. RTX FT 857D Power 100w with multi doublet and vertical antennas, made home. All QSOs will receive a QSL, which will be edited specially for this activation."

EU-052. Marco, IK1RAE, will be active as SV8/IK1RAE/p from Corfu and Paxoi Islands between now and September 16th. The suggested frequencies are: 7045, 14245, 18145 and 21245 kHz.

EU-088. Bernd, DL8AAV, will be active as OZ/DL8AAV/p from Laeso Island (NK-003 for the Danish Islands Award), September 17-30th. His activity will be on 80-10 meters CW and SSB. QSL via his home callsign.

EU-120. Just a reminder! Members of the Chippenham and District Amateur Radio Club will be active next weekend as GB2LI from Lundy Island off the coast of Devon, September 16-21st. They will operate SSB, CW and FM on HF and 2 meters (the generator will be off between 2300 to 0700 local time). Visit their Web page at: http://g3vre.org.uk/

EU-123. Michael, GM0PHW, will be active as GM0PHW/p from Inchcolm Island (IOSA FF-06, SCOTIA CS-07), Firth of Forth, October 7-8th. Activity will be on 40-10 meters SSB only. A special QSL card will be printed for this operation. QSL is direct only to GM0PHW: Michael Whitehead, 185 Allanton Road, Allanton Shotts ML7 5AX, Scotland, UK. More information can be found at: http://www.hamcall.co.uk/

NA-066. Members of the Palos Verdes Amateur Radio Club (K6PV) will be active from Two Harbors on Santa Catalina Island (USI CA-016S, Los Angeles County, California), the afternoon of November 12th through the morning of November 15th. Activity will be on 40/20 meters SSB, on the usual IOTA frequencies (mainly 14260 kHz). QSL direct to K6PV (w/SASE) at: Palos Verdes Amateur Radio Club, PO Box 2316, Palos Verdes Peninsu, CA 90274. Visit their Web page at: http://www.palosverdes.com/pvarc/index.htm

J2, DJIBOUTI (Update). Last week we mentioned that Jean-Claude, J28JA, who will be here for about the next two years, has been very active mainly on 20/17 meters CW (with some SSB) between 1330-1400z and again after 1800z. He is expected over the next few months to be active on the lower bands (160/80m). Jean Claude regrets the poor propagation at this time from Djibouti, but he is trying to be on the other bands as often as possible. QSL via F5JFU: Pierre Desseneux, Le Bourg, 58140 ST. Martin du Puy, FRANCE.

JT, MONGOLIA. Czech operators Zdenek/OK1CCK, Josef/OK1ES, Milan/OK1FM and Josef/OK1XC will be active as JT800OK from Ulaan Baatar, now through October 8th. Activity is planned for 160-10 meters CW, SSB, RTTY, PSK31 and SSTV. QSL via OK1XC. Over the past weekend the team was heard on 20/17 meters. Visit their Web page for pictures and online logs at: http://www.shop73.com/jt800ok

KP4, PUERTO RICO (NA-099). Heiko, DL3VFN, is currenltly planning to be active as KP4/DL3VFN from Vieques Island, between December 28th and January 1st. No other details are available at the present time. QSL via DL3VFN, bureau preferred (no e-QSL) or direct to: Heiko Meier, Rittergutsweg 5, Zwoenitz, D-08297, GERMANY.

LX, LUXEMBOURG. Members of the Dutch Amateur Radio DX & Contest Group will be active as LX/PA6Z from Wiltz between September 30th and October 7th. Activity will be on all bands from 160-10 meters on CW, SSB and PSK31. Special attention will be payed to the WARC bands, 160m, 136 kHz and PSK31. They will try to be active on as many bands as possible for 24 hours a day. This year they will also activate the 136 kHz amateur band on CW, DFCW and QRSS (3-5 sec/dot). The suggested frequencies are around 136.5 kHz ±QRM for CW and 137.7 kHz for DFCW/QRSS with RX ±60Hz from TX QRG. The callsign on DFCW and QRSS will be LXPA6Z (so without /). Operation will be pure random, so no skeds in advance! QSL is via PA1K. Operators mentioned are: Herman/PA0TEN, Arend/PA2AWU, Frans/PA5CA, Jelmer/PA5R, Peter/PA2PKZ, Dick/PA4VHF, Marcel/PA9M and Harry/PA1H. For further information, visit their Web site at: http://www.pa6z.nl
During the activation there will be an online log running that will be updated once per day.

PJ2, NETHERLANDS ANTILLES (Ops Wanted!). Geoff, W0CG/PJ2DX, is looking for operators for the CQ WW SSB Contest (October 28-29th). The callsign will be PJ2T and they plan to be a Multi-Single (possibly Mult-2) entry in the contest. The station is located on Curacao. Information about the station is available at: http://www.pj2t.org

Tom, WW5L, announced that anyone who has QSLed direct to him for his June and July C91TL operation, all cards received direct have been answered. He states, "So far no bureau cards have been received."

The CZECH HAM RADIO DX FOUNDATION (OKDXF) is the QSL Manager for the following stations: 3D2KT, 3D2TN, 3V8BB (April 1996), 3W50K, 5W0VD, 5W0VV, 5W0SZ, 9K2/OK1TYM, AH8K, AT0VLH, E4/OK5DX, FO0/OK1KT, FO0/OK1TN, FO0/OK1VD, FO0/OK5DX, IH9/OK5DX, IH9/OL7N, IH9/OK1TN, IT9/OK1TN, J41YM, J8OK, J8OB, KP2/OK1CW, KP2/OK5DX, KP2/OK1DXB, KP2/OK1TN, KP2AD (November, December 1998), M0/OK1TN, OD5/OK1MU, OH/OK5DX, OZ/OK5DX, S21/OK1FWC, SM/OK5DX, SO7TN/1, SO7TN, SV/OK1YM, T00TN, TA2ZW, YM2ZW, ZA/OK5DX, ZA/OK1TN, ZA9A, ZK1KTT, ZK1TNN and ZS/OK1TN. The OKDXF Web page is available at: http://www.okdxf.cz/e_index.php

KH8SI QSL STATUS. Many reported last week that they have received their KH8SI. A very quick turn around.

QSL ROUTES FOR YZ6AMD. QSOs with Nikola, YZ6AMD, from the Republic of Montenegro, can now be QSLed to QSL Manager EA7FTR for contacts after September 1st, 2006. QSOs before that date or all contacts on UHF and VHF bands must be QSLed direct to YZ6AMD at: Nikola Ilic, Branka Copica 16, 85340 Herceg-Novi, Republic of MONTENEGRO.

SPECIAL EVENT. The French Ham Expo will be held once again in Auxerre, Burgundy, from September 23rd to October 6th. French Ham Expo is said to be one of the most important ham meetings in Europe other than Friedrichshaffen. This year's special callsign, TM3NV, will be aired by the Yonne area hams, to remember Antoine, F3NV, former past President of the 89th Yonne Division of the National REF-Union. Activity will be on 160m-70cm, WARC and 6m included, using CW, SSB and digital modes. QSL via F2WS, direct or by the bureau.

TK, CORSICA ISLAND. Operators Tom/HA4DX and Laci/HA0HW, will be active from here between November 2-10th. Activity will be on all bands (also 160m), CW, SSB, RTTY and PSK31.

TP20, FRANCE (Special Event). The Council of Europe Radio Amateur Club (CERAC) will be active between September 29th and October 1st, using the callsign TP20CE. Activity is to celebrate the 20th anniversary of the creation of the Radio Club. QSL via F5LGF. Visit the CERAC Web site at: http://www.coe.int/t/e/tp2ce

TU2, COTE D'LVOIRE. Jean Luc, F5LDY, is now active as TU2/F5LDY from Republic of Ivory Coast until about September 2007. He reports that the authorities of the Ivory Coast do not allow a full TU callsign unless your stay is longer than 2 years, so they authorized him to use the callsign TU2/F5LDY. According to the Web page listed below, Jean Luc's station is composed of a FT1000 MP with a vertical Cuschcraft R7, a G5RV full size, and a long wire for the 160m. Here are his suggested frequencies (if propagation permits):

CW - 1818, 3508, 7008, 10108, 14008, 18078, 21008, 24908 and 28008 kHz SSB - 1848, 3748, 7048, 14248, 18148, 21248, 24948 and 28448 kHz 6m - No activity.
RTTY - An interface made by F5KEE, Jean Luc will be active from time to time. No frquencies provided.
Visit the following Web page for update, logs and pictures, at:
http://f5kee.free.fr/tu2-f5ldy/tu2ldy.htm
QSL Manager is F1CGN; by the Bureau or direct: Plet Fabrice, 58 Avenue Rene Lebail, 91210 Draveil, FRANCE.

V3, BELIZE. You still have a few days to work "The Glass Arm DXpedition" from Placencia, Belize, until September 13th. Operators will be using straight keys for the entire operation. Look for: Nancy WZ8C/V31AN, Cal WF5W/V31EA, Eddy K5WQG/V31MR and Bill WB5IUU/V31UU. QSL via the FISTS QSL Bureau.

V5, NAMIBIA. Pierre, HB9QQ, will once again visit Namibia and be active as V5/HB9QQ between now and September 30th. He plans to activate the WARC bands (30/17/12 meters). His mode of activity was not mentioned. Equipment to be used: FT-897D, Dipole by "Kelemen" for 30/17/12m. QSL via HB9QQ.

VP2M, MONTSERRAT (NA-103). Gordon, G3USR, will be active as VP2MSR between October 26th and November 2nd. His activity will be limited because Gordon will be on a holiday and not a DXpedition. Using only 100w and a modest antenna, look for him mostly on 40 and 20 meters SSB only; normal IOTA frequencies preferred. QSL via G3USR, by the RSGB Bureau or direct to: Gordon Rolland, The Lodge, 3B Reeves Lane, Wing, OAKHAM, Rutland, LE15 8SD, England - U.K.

VU, INDIA. Bill, W4ZV, reports that Kumar, VU2BGS, was heard this past weekend (Saturday) on 160 meters (Topband) again. He is still running 70 watts but has improved the radial system for his 10m vertical. Watch for him Saturdays beginning at 2100z.

VU7, LAKSHADWEEP ISLANDS. The National Institute of Amateur Radio (NIAR) sent out the following press release: HAMFEST - VU7, January 15-25 2007.
"NIAR is pleased to announce activities of the #2 Most Wanted Entity, VU7-Lakshadweep, in January 2007. The Government of India conducted a meeting of Inter-ministerial representatives with NIAR in New Delhi and gave in-principal approval for VU7 operations. However formal approval will come later by November 2006.
We are planning to operate as VU7RG (Subject to WPC of DOT Govt. of India agencies to this call) from 3 excellent equipped and well organized sites from 15-25 January 2007. Late Mr. Rajiv Gandhi VU2RG former Prime Minister of India had encouraged Amateur Radio in India. His wife Mrs. Sonia Gandhi VU2SON is now the leader of UPA in Government in India. It is appropriate this call sign is used.
A group of approximately 70 multinational and 30 Indian Hams are expected to travel from Kochin, India, by boat to Lakshadweep on or about January 12th.
An International Advisory Committe (IAC) is constituted under the Chairmanship of Mr.S.Suri, VU2MY to organise the event successfully. The IAC has broughtout an Memorandum of Understanding to be agreed by participants for better coordination during VU7 operations. (A copy of the same is enclosed.)

A Sub-Committee is constituted by International Advisory Committee with Mr. Frank Rosenkranz DL4KQ, as Chairman, Ms. Kyoko Miyoshi JR3MVF, Mr. Martti Laine OH2BH, Dr. Glenn Johnson W0GJ as members, Mr. S. Ram Mohan VU2MYH as convenor. This Committee will deal with requirements/coordination of all international participants of VU7 operations.
More details will be released exclusively by NIAR as plans and details firm up (www.niar.org) and an official webpage will be set up soon.
We request your kind support and participation to make VU7 activity a successful event. Regards, S.Ram Mohan, VU2MYH"

WP4, PUERTO RICO. Members of the "Trujillo Alto Contest Club WP4WW", will operate as WP4BH during this CQWW DX SSB Contest (October 28-29th) as a Multi-Multi entry. Operators mentioned are: Tomas/WP4BH, Nestor/WP4BL and Jose/KP4JRS. QSL via WP4BH direct, Bureau and LoTW.

WTF is wrong with you Mark?? You crave that much attention that you have to change your screen nic? If you use the excuse that Google only allows so many posts, well if with some 20 different screen nics you have the need to get some new screen nics, you indeed are a sick person.
Your fans don't kill file you, but most other normal people do and have

Hey Stupid,

I got N9OGL's Omega One pirate station at S-4 and can hear every shitty song Todd is playing with no effort at all, even with the attenuator in.
Excessive power is a violation of the rule.

N9OGL's due process is the full body cavity search they'll give him just before they throw him in the prison with AB8MQ if he don't pay the NAL when they slap his ass with it.

Mark shouldn't be too disappointed, Todd emailed him a picture of his butt. Mark can keep looking at that. I hear Todd's got Omega One tattood on the left cheek and AB8MQ tattood on the right.

If he increases power much more I won't even need an antenna to receive

Projecting again, you can't even afford a spell check, fatass.

BILLY SMITH STEPS ON HIS OWN DICK THUSLY WITH THESE FUCK-UPS:

Billy "Dumbass who can't put together a sentence" Smith shows off those English skills, quite ironically in <VfQHf.14581$rH5.8121@newsread2.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"That's interesting there idiot. I bet you really did flunk high school math and probably elementary too. Oh thats right, wasn't that when was in Floriduh. Spelled Florida but the DUH is for your Dumb Ass."

"wasn't that when was in Floriduh" - Billy makes good fuck up!

Billy "shoots" himself in his palsied club foot once again in Message-ID <Q0bJf.19641$vU2.7735@newsread3.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"Roger, shots himself in the foot"

Billy the "Rhodes" scholar fucks up again and even demonstrates he is an imbecile in <8uqwg.8275$v0.7632@newsread4.news.pas.earthlink.net>:
"Right you are, wannabe Rhode's Scholar!"

Billy the illiterate retard Smith screws up again, and his illiteracy is exposed. "It serves him right."
in<hauKf.1410$S25.940@newsread1.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"Deserves him right."

Billy "retard" Smith confesses to his generally accepted retarded
status in <LwpLf.2321$F56.2317@newsread3.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"I'm a general retard. bwhahaha"

Billy "spelling champ of the general retards" Smith admits his bad hygiene but is still in denial about his English skills in <QxpLf.2322$F56.1169@newsread3.news.atl.earthlink.net>
"Sure I can spell and smell."

"Billy" the NOtwordSmith fucks up again with this incompete sentence in <qgyNf.5576$S25.341@newsread1.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"So when you got divorced boy, did your finally figure out that your more"

Billy "cumgargler" Smith managed to awaken from his drunken stupor to slobber
in <fbIOf.442$sL2.25@newsread2.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"Isn't that you mom weighed"

Mr."Education" Billy Smith steps on his own dick again when he talks about others' "educations" (or educatiion" as he spells it) in <w7IOf.436$sL2.167@newsread2.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"Uh, huh. Right LOSER. Still smoking that dope again? By the way how is your

<B9IOf.439$sL2.255@newsread2.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"You're whole life has been exhaled before."

Billy "illiterate retard" Smith spikes the "HUH?" factor in this slobbering in <MGqUf.16833$S25.8455@newsread1.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"Come on, do it just have you some spiked Kool Aid."

"Didn't" your special-Ed teacher teach you how to spell, Billy?
in <OCqUf.16826$S25.10695@newsread1.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"...didnt Marie teach you to play nice"

"Rhodes scholar" Billy Lardass Davies Smith blunders and blows his cover again in <Et%0g.6340$sq5.1769@newsread2.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"Rhode's scholar Scheissman blows his cover again."

Billy "dumbass" Smith steps on his own tiny dick when he tries to criticize others' typos,but he doesn't "perform" well as usual with his blatant "stupidity" in <oCk1g.5958$Es3.3907@newsread3.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"Noteed!!!!!!!!!!!!! Bwhahahahahahah. You're a brilliant one Scheissman.
You even peform stupid acts on your blatant stupidty"

Billy "dropout Lardass" Smith steps on his own dick when he tries to comment on others' spelling abilities, but he "can't" do any better in Message-ID: <mQr3g.8970$sq5.4914@newsread2.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"Woger cant spell very well anyway."

Billy "dropout pizza BOY" Smith fucks up his sentence again when he blathered in <WdZfg.629$lp.259@newsread3.news.pas.earthlink.net>:
"How about those retest letter you received for jamming."

Billy "illiterate " Smith claims to have been in the Library, but he can't even spell "I've" correctly, maybe Billy should check out the English tutoring books there in WpFgg.1310$lf4.1288@newsread1.news.pas.earthlink.net>:

"Ive been to quite a few libraries on Sunday and a lot of them are open."

Billy Smith "the" ill-educated moron fucks up again in <4zxLg.15720$Qf.5115@newsread2.news.pas.earthlink.net>:
"Roger is about to finally have th final episode where..."

Yep. That'll have us splitting our sides with laughter.

"From these studies and many more, it is evident that homosexuals molest children at a far greater rate than do their heterosexual counterparts.
While they comprise only 1-2% of the population, they are responsible for upwards of a third or more of all sexual molestations of children."

SC, without giving out too much information, approximately how far are you from Toad? If you're hearing him at a distance of more than a few miles that proves our point beyond a doubt.

This post goes to show how little you truly know about CB. Your a CB poser who's only interest in the hobby is financial. Your post was an admission that you do not talk on CB. If you're getting hate and discontent on the CB as soon as you transmit, then you must have pissed off a lot of your local CBers.

His program selection was bad, bad, bad, last weekend. A barrage of old 30's & 40's tunes for a while. He even had Shirley Temple singing "The Good Ship Lollipop", ROFL, and I'm not making that up either.

I'm a long way from Todd. I can only hear Omega One if there's propagation. I don't really hear Omega fifteen hours a day, I made that up, but I can hear it at least five hours a day, and a lot longer if propagation is good.

Naw, I'll just move to a different Frequency, I'll park it right in the middle of the 20 meter band, I don't give a shit. When ham operators start complaining about it, I send your way.

I'm sure the FCC considered them. Here's how it probably went:

Assistant to FCC Section Chief: "Hey, boss, we just got some requests for LPTV waivers from some guy in Illinois named Todd Daugherty."

FCC Section Chief: "Todd...who? Oh, yeah...HIM again. Isn't he the guy who calls us all sorts of names on the Internet and brags about being a pirate?"

Assistant: "Let me get the file...yeah, that's him, all right. Real pain in the ass. What do you want to do about his requests?"

Chief: "File 'em. Right over there (points to big gray object in corner)."

Assistant: "But, Chief, that's the paper shredder...oh, I get it (snicker)!"

The point, Toad, is that "shall consider" does not mean "must grant."
As usual, you read into things what you want them to mean and then you get mad at the world when the world doesn't read them the same way you do.

And another, thing, Toad. When dealing with a Federal agency you have to explain yourself to them; they don't have to explain themselves to you. No, it isn't fair, but that's just the way it is. But that's your problem. You just can't accept that there are things you can't control.

Slow Code said:
> So when you die in a shootout with the infidel FCC, you get 72 virgins?

Does the Koran specify the gender of these virgins? Toad probably interprets the Koran the same way he interprets Part 15 - "it means what I say it means, not what it says."

Now that's interesting. Is Markie admitting that Toad is going to get a NAL (Notice of Apparent Liability)? Or did our resident spelling ace actually mean to write, "why would a fed show up for anal?"

"For anal" is the reason Markie would show up at Toad's place. A little Freudian slip there, Markie?

But "a fed" would show up at Toad's place "for anal" in the sense that "a fed" is going to shove that NAL up Toad's ass sideways.

First let me say "I have never met Jay Wright" .
I can neither confirm nor deny any information on the STOP-JAY-KK9L web page

My guess is Dan Dews , KK9G , of Roachdale IN is behind the STOP-JAY-KK9L web page .
It sure seems to be his style .
This is only an educated guess as to the webmaster of the above mentioned website .
I could be wrong .
Although I doubt it .
Dan Dews , KK9G has made many statements about many hams in the past .

Some people /\ are such cowards that they must make anonymous accusations
These people don't have the balls to identify their self .
If a persons statements are true and can be proven true then they shouldn't need to try to hide .
Unless they are just a chicken sh*t .
And this is my personal opinion of K__K__9__G .

My opinions do not necessarily reflect any one else's opinion , but I bet they do .

Anybody know what the last sentence means?

The second sentence is exactly what most of us figured was the attitude of the operator all along, so it comes as no surprise. The station's slogan should really be:

And that wasn't the real Mark Morgan, you clueless rube. The post was made through nntpserver.com, and the teranews headers were all faked.

Nevertheless, Mark Morgan is to be congratulated for earning the Golden Killfile Award. Oh, it's not as good as your Cocksucker of the Year award from NIM Busters, but Mark is working his way down. Next year, he'll take that position over for himself, and you will be history.

"You never asked someone who goes into areas of the internet that are only for adults who has an underage id somehow or another if they are a cop posing as an underage person online?
I guess lots of people just don't watch dateline or read stories much. Why don;t you go to pervertedjustice,com and see what they do. They are awash in their self-proclaimed glory after they lied to membners of the public.
They are awash in their self-proclaimed glory after they posed as an underage person and agreed to do all sorts of sex acts wioth adult males, and they are adults posing as teenager themselves. They make themsleves into liars by falsely impersonating underage persons and by not fuilfilling the words they tell the victims online in their chats. Why don't you read it where they tell these victims of their deceit about how they have been with grown men and such? Why don't you read it where they say, "That would be cool." after someone makes an advance towards an adult who is posing as a teenager? And, where they agree to meet the person, etc.
Lost control, didn't you?
Is that why you feel as if you need to lie so much now? I see where lots of these false impersonation games are not sticking. They feel as if they can lie and then order the victims to get counseling in the gayblade, governmental, pro-choice tax leech counseling centers. They are doing nothing more than usury and fraud in many cases." -- Wentzky almost comes out of the closet as a pedo/ephebophile in MID: <H%%Eg.28916$Uq1.22411@bignews6.bellsouth.net>

5520. New Omega One party game: Pass the beer enema.

How they play it:

N9OGL administers a large beer enema to AB8MQ.

KB9RQZ has a hollow tube in his anus. Woger backs up, butt to butt with Markie and inserts the other end of the tube in his ass and passes the enema to Markie who removes his end of the tube, holding in the enema he just receive from Woger.

N0VFP now grabs and inserts the tube and Markie backs up to him and butt to butt he passes the enema to Lloydie.

Lloyd holds the enema in for a while then passes it back to woger using the above procedure. Then Toddie, Markie and Lloydie kneel down behind Woger and Woger gives them the golden brown shower and they all fall to the floor laughing to the music playing on Omega one.

When it's Markies turn, Todd likes to administer the enema to Markie like he's sending CW. Long and short bursts. Markie hates CW and it always pisses him off when Todd Does that.

Funny you should mention that, Markie, since "getting off" is the only reason you continue to flame the newsgroups.

You and Toad are two of the best junkyard dogs out there.

no "capt" I don't flame the NGs at all nor do I get off on the content of RRAP there are Much better groups for that

Robeson Heil and Wismen are the ngs flamers posting on and on thier endless attacks on the imagingoined faults of all those that dare to disagree

you show yourself as Robeson or one of clones by YOUR obession with sex as if you aren't getting any

do yourself a favor get alife or get laid you will enjoy life more

The Inferior Five: AB8MQ, N9OGL, K8MN, N0VFP, and KB9RQZ.

You could be partially right about that one, Markie. I probably DON'T get as much as you do because I'm a lot more selective than you, I refuse to date outside of my own species and I confine my activities to the opposite sex only.

> do yourself a favor get alife or get laid you will enjoy life more

I enjoy life very much, Markie. It's people like you who hate their pathetic little existences and take out their frustrations in forums like these. People like you are the reason Prozac was developed.

yourself in a hole the sensible thing to do is to STOP DIGGING!

<top-poasting fix0red>

Surely not as big a waste of bandwidth as Wabbit? He libels with wild abandon, outs personal contact info in x-poasts, and attempts to use AUK against his flamewar opponents. He only succeeded with Mark because Mark provided him with very boring opposition, not because we(tinw) "let" him.

4. What's this newsgroup NOT for?

This group exists for recreational Kookology, not for Very Personal Vendetta. It is not to be used for general harassment of someone, or for net abuse such as spamming and flooding and cancelbombing in an attempt to gain vengeance on someone or get the denizens of AUK to shut up.
Either way, it won't work, it's very messy, "Bob" will give you triple your money back, and you don't get a life.

Also, we [tinw] are not in the business of harassing the vulnerable or the insane. Occasionally an apparent net.kook proves to be genuinely ill. In such cases the person is disqualified from winning awards and other posters are asked to avoid exacerbating his or her problems.
Similarly, trolling or kook-hunting in support groups is strongly discouraged.

And surely not as big a waste of bandwidth as some top-poasting fuckwit?
Flaming me when I'm making an intelligent reply, however offensively off-topic as it may seem to the Supreme Usenet Emperor Steve Stone, is perhaps a less-than-bright manoeuvre on your part.

Hint: It is not my problem if you don't know how to operate your newsreader's killfile. Or how to get a real newsreader.

What's a "cirut?" You are so stupid, Markie, anybody can see why you can't pass the General theory exam.
I can bet you didn't pass the no code tech until about after 20 times

Sounds like Toad's bound and determined to commit slow-motion suicide.
Hey, whatever turns you on, Toad.

What's irritating is that when the FCC takes you down they'll probably rewrite Part 15 to be even more restrictive than it is. In that case, NOBODY wins. But you don't care about that, do you? This is typical sociopathic behavior - to hell with everybody else as long as I get what I want.

Sex? I didn't see any reference to sex. I did, however, look at your "blog," etc., and found the answer to my question.

You are not only a moron, but possibly a dangerous psychotic one.

You are going into the "delete without reading" filter.

You could be partially right about that one, Markie. I probably DON'T get as much as you do because I'm a lot more selective than you, I refuse to date outside of my own species and I confine my activities to the opposite sex only.

> do yourself a favor get alife or get laid you will enjoy life more

I enjoy life very much, Markie. It's people like you who hate their pathetic little existences and take out their frustrations in forums like these. People like you are the reason Prozac was developed.

Here's some free advice, not that you'll take it: when you find yourself in a hole the sensible thing to do is to STOP DIGGING!
As "wismen" would say, "Oh, the irony." Mark, who posts literally hundreds of lines of nonsense each month calls Heil a "flamer". In fact, I'm willing to bet that Steve's and Dave's monthly posts added together are but a fraction of what Mark posts. And he calls THEM flamers???

Mark has proven still again that stupidity has few boundaries.

And others don't like homophiles who walk around with a chip on their shoulder and get in everyone's face with their sexual preferences.

Homophilia is the other face of homophobia, and it appears that you suffer from the former malady. Stop looking at everyone else through the prism of your own sexual tension, and stop projecting your fears upon those who are different from you.

Your untrue and fearful cries of "homophobe" are a way of absolving yourself from any responsibility for your own life situation. It is the same thing that blacks do when they overuse the term of "racist," and most of us can see right through that kind of rhetoric no matter who uses it.

You, sir, are playing the blame game, but it doesn't work any longer. It's been worn out long ago. Come up with something real, or else continue to remain a newsgroup fool.

You have no proof of that, your just assuming and that don't mean shit, the fact is Part 15 has over the years beocme very relaxed instead of be restricted and if I am breaking the rules they aren't going to change the rules because of one person broke the rules...only a CB

Hey, Toad, exactly what is a "pussy beacon?" When I was a teenager, a "pussy beacon" was a metalflake blue Corvette with side pipes. Worked really well, too.

Yeah and I have a feeling in a few more years they will make it lease restrictive, if the FCC gets it way with BPL and a few other technologies coming out.

Only if you use the ISP to disseminate your virtual child porn.
Otherwise, do what you want on the 'net. And don't trot out your standard argument about "the Supreme Court says it's legal." Slavery was once legal, too; did that make it right? Obviously the ISPs agreed because they TOSsed your ass.

> AND USES A FEDERAL FUND AGENCY (FCC) TO SUPPRESS THAT SPEECH!!!

Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes made the classic comment on free speech when he said that the right of free speech does not give you the right to yell "Fire!" in a crowded theater when there is no fire.

Nobody is suppressing your free speech except you. An ISP is a private company and is free to contract for service as they see fit as long as they don't violate the law. Your ISPs had TOS provisions against porn and they interpreted what you were doing as a violation of their TOS.
The ISP is not the government and the Internet is not owned by the government (yet; they're working on it, though).

At the risk of creating a monster, here's an idea: why don't you set up your own ISP? Then you can have any terms of service you like. It's easy to do and really doesn't cost that much in startup capital. You might even be able to get in on the ground floor of BPL in your area.

I can see it now: Toddlink, dialup for $9.95/mo, broadband for $29.95/mo.

Who knows? You might even make enough money to be able to afford to replace Omega One's "coax with big freaking holes in it."

No argument. But remember: the BPL crowd has the Electronic Industries Association and quite a few cubic yards of money behind it. Part 15 experimenters don't have nearly that kind of clout. With the FCC, money talks and BS walks. They could very easily rewrite Part 15 to prohibit any kind of experimentation not specifically authorized by the FCC, meaning, pay big bucks for a special authorization. It's the little guys like us who will take it in the shorts like always.

It is customary on the Internet, that an ISP to notify their users that they might be violation of their tos before removing them, I recieved no such warning...but hey that 28 page letter i sent to the Attorney Genery should expalin it all.

There most certainly is such a thing as virtual kiddy porn. In the Miller decision, the Supreme Court recognized that there was but didn't directly address the legality of it.

The physical medium by which the porn is conveyed (hardcopy media, digital media, etc.) is not the problem. The problem is HOW the porn is created. In the case of child porn, real children are exploited in the creation of the images. Children, unlike adults, are legally considered incapable of deciding of their own free will to participate in the creation of pornography. That makes creation of that kind of child porn illegal under a host of criminal statutes.

Anime that portrays cartoon children engaged in sexual acts is not child pornography by the legal definition. However, it is considered to be such by most rational adults.

If you want to create virtual child porn there is no law (as of now) that prohibits you from doing it. But there is also no law that says anyone has to like it and also no law that says private individuals have to assist you in its dissemination. If your ISP doesn't like it they can terminate your service. You can take them to court but it's doubtful that you would get anywhere. Judges have children, too.

Could be that the ISP ordinance in Taylorville was passed primarily to keep you off the 'net, which would say a lot. By the way, does your 28 page letter to the Attorney Genery [sic] tell him to "eat ### and ######## die" if he doesn't do what you want him to?

No that's what they have Part 5 for. Part 5 is a experimental license for experimenting. read the rules.

http://www.access.gpo.gov/nara/cfr/waisidx_05/47cfrv1_05.html

BTW an Experimental License isn't that much, I believe it's around $55 dollars, hell anyone can afford that!

Part 15 wasn't really in reality designed for experimenting or broadcasting it was designed to regulated unwanted fields.

The Japanese can see it any way they want. Americans see it differently. In certain African countries, compulsory clitoridectomies of young women are considered normal and part of their tribal culture.
Americans see the practice as abhorrent. Different cultures interpret things differently.

I'll answer that as soon as you translate it into English.

No, you would rather do it than look at it. Just don't do it around my kids or I'll introduce you to my attorneys: Colt, Ruger, Beretta, Smith & Wesson.

Again, translate that into English, please. I think you said that Todd is protected by the courts. And he is, but only to the extent that he is protected from censorship BY THE GOVERNMENT. If his ISP, which is a private company, doesn't like what Todd is putting through their data stream they have every right to pull the plug on his service.

Yeah, you have to be a real man to flagrantly violate the rules and brag about it on the Internet.

In the real world that's called "stupidity."

You didn't get the point (but, then, you rarely do). What I meant was that they could easily rewrite Part 15 or any other rule to restrict experimenting even further. We don't want that.

You bring up a good question, though. If it's so cheap and easy to get an experimental license, why didn't you get one for your operation on 13.556 MHz? Then this entire discussion would be moot.
